HAZELTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—The Ninth regiment left here this morning for the scene of the riot.

At the request of Sheriff Martin, Governor Hastings ordered out the Third brigade, N. G. P.

HAZELTON, Pa., Sept. 11.—The strike situation reached a terrible crisis on the outskirts of Latimer, when a band of deputy sheriffs fired into an infuriated mob of miners. The men fell like so many sheep, and the excitement since has been so intense that no accurate figures of the dead and wounded can be obtained. Reports run from 15 to 20 odd killed and 40 more wounded. One man who reached the scene counted 13 corpses. Four other bodies lie in the mountains between Latimer and Hazelton. Those who were not injured carried their dead and wounded friends into the woods, and estimate is baffled. Some of those known to be dead are:

Mike Chesloll, Harwood.
Frank Cheka, Harwood.
John Staniska, Crystal Ridge.
George Kulick, Harwood.
Steve Herrick, Harwood.
Among the injured are:
George Krezo, Harwood, bullets through leg, hip and knee.
John Kerlovish, shot in neck.
Andrew Shabolick, shot in breast.
John Kulich, shot in stomach.
John Damensko, shot in both legs.
George Vercheck, shot in both legs.
John Forti, shot in head, will die.
John Cleshok, shot in hip.
Kazimir Dulis, shot in breast.
Jacob Kulshot, shot through body, will die.
Steve Kerskuki, shot in body.
John Koti, shot in arm and left side.
Joseph Bobick, shot through back.
John Treble, a deputy, shot in arm.
Three bodies were found on the road near Latimer.

The striker left Hazelton, announcing their intention to go to Latimer. As soon as this became known a band of deputies was loaded on a trolley car and went whirling across the mountain to the scene where the bloody conflict followed. After reaching Latimer they left the car and formed into three companies, under Thomas Hall, E. A. Hess and Samuel B. Price. They drew up in line at the edge of the village, with a fence and a line of houses in their rear.

Sheriff Martin was in entire command and stood in the front of the line until the strikers approached. They were seen coming across the ridge, and Martin went out to meet them.

The men drew up sullenly and listened in silence until he had once more read the riot act. This finished, a low muttering arose among the foreigners and there was a slight movement forward. Perceiving this the sheriff stepped toward them and in a determined tone forbade advance. Someone struck the sheriff, and the next moment there was a command to the deputies to fire. The guns of the deputies instantly belched forth a terrible volley. The report seemed to shake the very mountains, and a cry of dismay went up from the people. The strikers were taken entirely by surprise, and, as the men toppled and fell over each other, those who remained unhurt stampeded. The men went down before the storm of bullets like tenpins, and the groans of the dying and wounded filled the air.

The excitement that followed was simply indescribable. The deputies seemed to be terror stricken at the deadly execution of their guns, and seeing the living strikers fleeing like wild and others dropping to the earth, they went to the aid of the unfortunate whom they had brought down.

The people of Latimer rushed pell mell to the scene, but the shrieks of the wounded drowned the cries of the sympathizing and half-crazed inhabitants. A reporter who soon afterward reached the scene found the road leading to Latimer filled with groups of frightened Hungarians. Some surrounded dying companions and others, fearful of pursuit, clung to the newcomer and begged his protection.

One had three bullets in him. His groans and appeals for a doctor or death were heart rending. All along the road the wounded men were unable to leave the field of battle, scattered themselves and sought the shade of trees for protection, but there was no need of that then. Approaching the place where the shooting occurred people were met wringing their hands and bemoaning the catastrophe. They could not talk intelligently and it was with the greatest difficulty that information could be gleaned.

Along the bank of the trolley road men lay in every position; some dead, others dying.

Three bodies, face downward, lay along the incline and three others were but a short distance away. On the other side of the road as many more bodies lay. The schoolhouse was transferred into a temporary hospital and some of the wounded were taken there. The colliery ambulance was summoned to the place as soon as possible and upon its arrival the two men, both shot through the legs, were loaded into the wagon. All along the hill side wounded men were found on the green, on the roadside and in the fields. Many others who had been carried to a distance could not be found.

As soon as the news of the shooting reached Hazelton there was consternation. Within ten minutes the streets were blocked with excited people. The Lehigh Traction company immediately placed a number of extra cars on the Latimer line and doctors and clergymen responded promptly. The rush of people to Latimer was so great that the progress of vehicles along the road was impaired.

The strikers claim that they merely tried to pass through the deputies and had not even struck a blow. Several mass meetings were held by citizens. One passed resolutions asking for troops and another opposed sending of troops.

SHERIFF'S STATEMENT.

He Declares the Strikers Ignored His Proclamation—Says They Were Beating Him, When He Gave the Order to Fire—The Miners Were Furious.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 11.—When Sheriff Martin arrived home from Hazelton he was cool and collected. He was met at the depot by his legal adviser. The two got into a cab and drove to the court house, where they were closeted together for some time. The sheriff was at first reluctant to say whether he had given the command to fire, but afterward admitted that he had. The sheriff's detailed statement is as follows:

"I heard early that the strikers were going to march to the breaker at Latimer and compel the men there to quit work. I resolved to intercept them, and, if possible, prevent them from reaching the breaker. One of my deputies told me that the strikers would probably be heavily armed. I got my deputies, 70 in number, to meet me at a certain place. They were all armed. I told them to keep cool under all circumstances. The trouble began at 3 o'clock. I met the marching column. I halted them and read the proclamation. They refused to pay any attention and started to resume their march. Then I called to the leader to stop.

"He ignored my order. I then attempted to arrest him. The strikers closed in on me. They acted very viciously: kicking me, knocking me down and trampling upon me. I called upon my deputies to aid me and they did so, but they were unable to accomplish much. I realized that something had to be done at once or I would be killed. I called to the deputies to discharge their firearms into the air over the heads of the strikers, as it might probably frighten them. It was done at once, but it had no effect whatever on the infuriated foreigners, who used me so much the rougher and became fiercer and fiercer, more like wild beasts than human beings. The strikers then made a still bolder move and endeavored to surround my entire force of deputies. I fully realized that the foreigners were a desperate lot and valued life at a very small figure. I also saw that parleying with such a gang of infuriated men was entirely out of the question, they were too excited to listen to reason, and that myself and deputies would be killed if we were not rescued, or if we did not defend ourselves."

"I then called upon the deputies to defend themselves and shoot if they must to protect their lives or to protect the property that they had been sent to guard. The next second there were a few scattered shots fired into the foreigners, and a moment later the entire force of deputies discharged a solid volley into the crowd. I hated to give the command to shoot, and was awful sorry that I was compelled to do so, but I was there to do my duty, and I did it as best I knew how and as my conscience dictated, as the strikers were violating the laws of the commonwealth and flatly refused to obey the proclamation that I read to them. They insisted on doing violence and disobeying the laws."

Mr. Martin was asked: "When you met the men, were they on company property or on the public road?"

He replied: "They were on the public road."

"Were they marching toward Latimer?"

"Yes."

"Had they, up to that time, committed any overt act or acted otherwise than peaceably?"

"No."

"Why then did you order the deputies to fire?"

"I did not order the deputies to fire; someone else did that. First came a single shot and then a volley. I gave no order."

"Were any of your men hurt?"

"One of my deputies was shot through the arm."

Sheriff Martin, when he reached Wilkesbarre, was badly scared. Though he claims to have been brutally assaulted, when seen he did not have a mark on his person to show that he had been roughly handled. All classes of citizens in this city and county unite in condemning Sheriff Martin's hasty action.

CONVENTION STUBBORN.

Miners Vote Down Proposition to Accept 65 Cents—Final Vote Today.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—After defeating two resolutions for the acceptance of 65 cents by the Pittsburg district the miners' national convention adjourned while discussing a substitute resolutions. The previous resolutions were defeated by votes from Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia. The convention adjourned until today, when a final decision will be effected.

The substitute resolution provided for the acceptance of 65 cents in the Pittsburg district and proportionate advances in other states where the strike is to go on if the operators refuse this compromise. Such strikes are to be maintained by a levy of 10 per cent on earnings of miners who return to work.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

No Halting in the Steady Advance in Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade issued today says:

There is no halting in the advance. Business grows better in all ways, for while its speculative end breaks conspicuous gamblers for a decline, a steady increase in production in working force and in the power of the people to purchase is the feature which overshadows all others. Reports of New York trade unions show an increase since one year ago of 34 per cent in the number of men at work, and a similar increase among men in like position throughout the country would exceed 340,000, while every week adds many establishments to the active list.

The coal miners' strike has disclosed such facts, and brought to light such differences, that work will probably be very soon resumed by a large share of the men. The farmers are helped by higher prices for wheat and while western receipts do not show that they have marketed a tenth of their crop, assurance of handsome profits to come prepares them to buy liberally hereafter. Because of this and the increase of hands at work, dealers throughout the country have started to replenish stock, which is the great force at present operating manufacturing and trade, though distribution by retail trade has greatly increased.

A gain of 12 per cent in one month in the output of pigiron, from 165,378 tons Aug. 1 to 185,056 Sept. 1, with knowledge that half a dozen other furnaces are preparing to resume, and that unsold stocks have been reduced 14,400 tons weekly in August, indicating a consumption of about 190,000 tons, more than explains the moderate advance in prices of finished products, averaging but 6 per cent since the lowest point, Aug. 12.

Wheat has risen 5 cents the past week, not in a flurry, but in answer to the daily increasing foreign demand. Though reports of the crop, now almost wholly out of danger, indicate a yield never surpassed but once, foreign accounts will strengthen the belief that the deficiency abroad will be about 100,000,000 bushels more than usual, and, meanwhile, reports indicate that less corn than was expected will be available for export. Its price has risen about 3/4 of a cent. While wheat receipts at Chicago have been breaking records, receipts at all western ports for the week are far below last year's, and at Atlantic ports 9,775,981 bushels, flour included, against 4,270,755 bushels last year for two weeks, with 5,579,771 bushels corn, against 3,570,704 bushels last year indicate a foreign demand apparently limited at present only by ship room.

With enormous speculative sales of wool, which appear to constitute most of the market at Boston, there is also more buying there and elsewhere by the woolen mills, which are enjoying an extraordinary demand for goods at prices averaging not 10 per cent higher than were paid early in the year.

The average advance for the week in securities has been $1.12 per share for railroads and 79 cents for trusts.

Failures for the week have been 215 in the United States, against 315 last year.

Rich Gold Find in New Mexico.

SANTA FE, Sept. 11.—Reports from Golden, South Santa Fe county, say that in sinking a tubular well to secure a water supply the drill passed through 50 feet of solid quartz, every foot of which shows free gold. Some of the gold nuggets are as large as grains of wheat. The discovery was made on virgin ground at a depth of 350 feet.

Peace in Uruguay.

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 11.—It is announced that peace has been concluded between the government of Uruguay and the Uruguayan insurgents through the mediation of Dr. Retmirez.

NOT HASKELL'S PLACE

His Delay May Lose Him That $2,500 Job

AN OLD LAW BARS HIM OUT.

Failure of the Ohioan to Grasp the Opportunity Turns On the Light of Scrutiny—Only Citizens of the District of Columbia Eligible.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The delay of W. C. Haskell of Ohio in taking charge of the $2,500 position here as inspector of weights and measures, to which he had been appointed, may result in his being deprived of it when he makes up his mind to accept.

An old statute, which, it is said, has never been repealed, expressly stipulates that the inspectorship of weights and measures shall be held only by a resident of the District of Columbia.

The attention of the treasury officials has been called to this point, and if the contention is found to be correct, General Haskell can look for another job.

Big Lot of Snakes.

CALDWELL, O., Sept. 11.—Copperhead snakes never were so plenty in the history of Noble county as this year, and hundreds have been killed by harvesters and berry pickers. They are found in large numbers by squirrel hunters. William G. Smithberger of Harrietsville came across a nest of 16 nearly full grown copperhead snakes, and after an exciting skirmish killed them all. A nest of 12 was found in the stable of Malet Luke, near Dexter City, and all killed.

A Great Year For Cheese.

CANAL DOVER, Sept. 11.—This has been a great cheese year for Tuscarawas county, and the "crop" is in excess of that of former years. The makers have already begun to sell their product. The other day a procession of 27 wagons of Swiss cheese passed through here and unloaded in the Gerber cheese cellars at the county seat. The wagons contained 78 casks, each averaging 600 pounds weight.

A Muskingum County Win.

ROSEVILLE, O., Sept. 11.—Recently the Roseville Gas and Oil company drilled a well near here and abandoned the experiment as a bad job. George Bodine, a stockholder, was not satisfied, and started to sink it 100 feet deeper at his own expense. He struck a good flow of oil. The other stockholders say they did not give Bodine the well, as he claims.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

A Report Shows Average Conditions to Exist.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The September report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the following average conditions on Sept. 1: Corn, 79.3; oats, 84.6; rye, 90.1; tobacco, 75.5; wheat, 85.7; barley, 86.4; buckwheat, 95.1; potatoes, 66.7. The condition of corn, 79.3, is 4.9 points lower than last month, 11.7 points lower than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 3.3 points lower than the September average for the last ten years.

The principal state averages are as follows: Ohio, 84; Michigan, 88; Indiana, 82; Illinois, 84; Iowa, 70; Missouri, 74; Kansas, 61; Nebraska, 87; Texas, 81; Tennessee, 85; Kentucky, 83. The condition of wheat 85.7 is 11.1 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 4.50 points higher than the September average for the last ten years. There is a marked decline in the principal spring wheat states, as compared with last month.

The average condition of oats is 84.6 as compared with 86.0 on Aug. 1, with 74.0 on Sept. 1, 1896, and with 80.7 the September average for the last ten years. The average condition of barley, 86.4, shows a decline of 1.1 points during the month, but is higher by 3.3 points than on Sept. 1, 1896, and by 1.9 points than the September average for the last ten years.

The average condition of rye, 90.1, is 8.1 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 3.1 points above the average for the last ten years. The condition of buckwheat, 97.1, shows a slight improvement during the month. It is 1.9 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 7.3 points higher than the September average for the last ten years.

THE LUTGERT TRIAL.

Three Experts Give Their Testimony in the Wife Murder Case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—There was considerable progress in the Lutgert trial, the session being devoted to the hearing of expert testimony. It was shown that the matter collected in the crevices of the pocketknife given by the alleged murderer to his former sweetheart, Mrs. Feldt, on the eve of his arrest, consisted of blood and particles of muscular tissue. One fact the state continuously attempted to establish, namely, that the particles of bone, flesh and organic matter taken from the vat and connecting sluice, had at one time been portions of a human body, but though the experts readily assented to the proposition that the stuff resembled the flesh and bone of a human being, they refused to deny upon cross examination that they bore an equal resemblance to the flesh and bone of any warm-blooded animal who eats similar food.

The three experts who testified were Prof. Mark Delafontaine, teacher of chemistry in a Chicago high school; Prof. Walter S. Haines, professor of chemistry in the Rush Medical college, and George Vincent Bailey, osteologist of the Field Columbian Museum.

KLONDYKERS NEED FOOD.

Food Getting Scarce and Winter Has Set In—A Ship Arrives With Miners Bearing Gold—The Disappointed Ones Have Become Riotous.

OTTER POINT, B. C., Sept. 11.—The steamer Cleveland has arrived from St. Michaels. The winter has set in at Dawson and two great stores of the place have closed their doors, for they have nothing to sell. Those who have been seeking gold must now seek food or starve.

While there may be a tendency to exaggerate the actual condition of affairs there can be no question that famine threatens the adventurous men and women who made their way to the Klondyke. Hundreds of unruly spirits are flocking to Dawson. Threats of violence are being made on every side.

There are uttered threats of vengeance by those held at St. Michaels, who have little hopes of advancing up the river and less of getting back to civilization.

The first signs of winter are apparent on the river Yukon, which is beginning to freeze and in a few weeks will be closed. Enormous prices are now being paid for food at Dawson, and it is impossible that more than four vessels with provisions can reach Dawson before the river is a mass of ice.

Even dire distress threatens those compelled to stay at St. Michaels. Many are living in tents.

On the Cleveland there are 38 passengers, men, women and children, who have come from Dawson City.

There are few miners in this party that are able to tell of prosperity. Most of them wish to exaggerate their possessions and if one were to believe the stories they tell, he would say that the treasure ship in which they have come carries $5,000,000.

Captain Hall, master of the Cleveland, says that he has $100,000 in his safe. The purser believes that he can account for $150,000 on board.

Shortly before the Cleveland left St. Michaels two of the expeditions, those of the National and of the South coast, held indignation meetings, threatening dire vengeance upon those who had brought them there and were unable to carry them further.

The Cleveland also brings news that when the Humboldt stopped at Unalakleet on her journey to St. Michaels the passengers were in open rebellion.

They began to realize that it would be impossible for them to reach Dawson before next spring, and they knew misery awaited them at St. Michaels. There were open threats against W. D. Woods, the organizer and manager of the expedition, and it is feared that he may lose his life at the hands of his passengers.

MORE YELLOW FEVER CASES.

Young Lady Has Black Vomit in Biloxi. Short of Supplies.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The announcement of 12 suspicious cases on one square in the city and that three cases had developed since the death of a young lady who had come from Ocean Springs, created a large measure of alarm in the public mind, but this was allayed when the facts became known.

It developed that a man had died as the result of excessive dissipation instead of yellow fever, as reported, in the very square in which the suspicious cases had been found. All reports received by Dr. Oliphant were so favorable that renewed confidence was infused in the officials of the board. None of the cases are known to be yellow fever.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Surgeon General Wyman has received several telegrams from Mississippi points bearing on the yellow fever situation.

Surgeon Carter telegraphed from Gulf Port, Miss., concerning the case at Perkinston as follows:

"One case yellow fever. Dr. Sheely at Perkinston. It was contracted at Ocean Springs. The case is isolated and under all necessary guard."

A dispatch from Dr. Guiteras confirmed this news.

One hundred and forty people, white and black, in Ocean Springs by actual count, are in distress, many being in extreme need of medicine and provisions.

The fever has not spread west beyond Biloxi. The most effective quarantine measure are in force, and if the disease is not held in check at Biloxi and Ocean Springs and Scranton, it will not be because the authorities have lacked in vigilance.

Biloxi is appealing for medicine and the situation in the town is apparently growing steadily worse. Miss Lewis, in the city limits, was declared to have black vomit after Dr. Tackett had made a microscopic examination. Frank Emery, son of the Methodist preacher there, was reported down with yellow fever.

Four Thousand Men on Strike.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The 4,000 men who have been at work on the new underground trolley line, which is being built along Madison and Fourth streets, have gone on strike. The strike was inaugurated because the men have received no pay for three weeks.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—After defeating two resolutions for the acceptance of 65 cents by the Pittsburgh district the miners' national convention adjourned while discussing a substitute resolutions. The previous resolutions were defeated by votes from Illinois, Indiana and West Virginia. The convention adjourned until today, when a final decision will be effected. The substitute resolution provided for the acceptance of 65 cents in the Pittsburgh district and proportionate advances in other states where the strike is to go on if the operators refuse this compromise. Such strikes are to be maintained by a levy of 10 per cent on earnings of miners who return to work.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE. No Halting in the Steady Advance in Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade issued today says: There is no halting in the advance. Business grows better in all ways, for while its speculative end breaks conspicuous gamblers for a decline, a steady increase in production in working force and in the power of the people to purchase is the feature which overshadows all others. Reports of New York trade unions show an increase since one year ago of 34 per cent in the number of men at work, and a similar increase among men in like position throughout the country would exceed 340,000, while every week adds many establishments to the active list. The coal miners' strike has disclosed such facts, and brought to light such differences, that work will probably be very soon resumed by a large share of the men. The farmers are helped by higher prices for wheat and while western receipts do not show that they have marketed a tenth of their crop, assurance of handsome profits to come prepares them to buy liberally hereafter. Because of this and the increase of hands at work, dealers throughout the country have started to replenish stock, which is the great force at present operating manufacturing and trade, though distribution by retail trade has greatly increased. A gain of 12 per cent in one month in the output of pigiron, from 165,378 tons Aug. 1 to 185,056 Sept. 1, with knowledge that half a dozen other furnaces are preparing to resume, and that unsold stocks have been reduced 14,400 tons weekly in August, indicating a consumption of about 190,000 tons, more than explains the moderate advance in prices of finished products, averaging but 6 per cent since the lowest point, Aug. 12. Wheat has risen 5 cents the past week, not in a flurry, but in answer to the daily increasing foreign demand. Though reports of the crop, now almost wholly out of danger, indicate a yield never surpassed but once, foreign accounts will strengthen the belief that the deficiency abroad will be about 100,000,000 bushels more than usual, and, meanwhile, reports indicate that less corn than was expected will be available for export. Its price has risen about 3/4 of a cent. While wheat receipts at Chicago have been breaking records, receipts at all western ports for the week are far below last year's, and at Atlantic ports 9,778,981 bushels, flour included, against 4,270,755 bushels last year for two weeks, with 5,579,771 bushels corn, against 3,570,704 bushels last year indicate a foreign demand apparently limited at present only by ship room. With enormous speculative sales of wool, which appear to constitute most of the market at Boston, there is also more buying there and elsewhere by the woolen mills, which are enjoying an extraordinary demand for goods at prices averaging not 10 per cent higher than were paid early in the year. The average advance for the week in securities has been $1.12 per share for railroads and 79 cents for trusts. Failures for the week have been 215 in the United States, against 315 last year.

Rich Gold Find in New Mexico. SANTA FE, Sept. 11.—Reports from Golden, South Santa Fe county, say that in sinking a tubular well to secure a water supply the drill passed through 50 feet of solid quartz, every foot of which shows free gold. Some of the gold nuggets are as large as grains of wheat. The discovery was made on virgin ground at a depth of 350 feet. Peace in Uruguay. MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 11.—It is announced that peace has been concluded between the government of Uruguay and the Uruguayan insurgents through the mediation of Dr. Retmirez.

NOT HASKELL'S PLACE

His Delay May Lose Him That $2,500 Job

AN OLD LAW BARS HIM OUT.

Failure of the Ohioan to Grasp the Opportunity Turns On the Light of Scrutiny—Only Citizens of the District of Columbia Eligible.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The delay of W. C. Haskell of Ohio in taking charge of the $2,500 position here as inspector of weights and measures, to which he had been appointed, may result in his being deprived of it when he makes up his mind to accept. An old statute, which, it is said, has never been repealed, expressly stipulates that the inspectorship of weights and measures shall be held only by a resident of the District of Columbia. The attention of the treasury officials has been called to this point, and if the contention is found to be correct, General Haskell can look for another job.

Big Lot of Snakes. CALDWELL, O., Sept. 11.—Copperhead snakes never were so plenty in the history of Noble county as this year, and hundreds have been killed by harvesters and berry-pickers. They are found in large numbers by squirrel hunters. William G. Smithberger of Harrietsville came across a nest of 16 nearly full grown copperhead snakes, and after an exciting skirmish killed them all. A nest of 12 was found in the stable of Maiken Luke, near Dexter City, and all killed.

A Great Year For Cheese. CANAL DOVER, Sept. 11.—This has been a great cheese year for Tuscara was county, and the "crop" is in excess of that of former years. The makers have already begun to sell their product. The other day a procession of 27 wagons of Swiss cheese passed through here and unloaded in the Gerber cheese cellars at the county seat. The wagons contained 78 casks, each averaging 600 pounds weight.

A Muskingum County Winnow. ROSEVILLE, O., Sept. 11.—Recently the Roseville Gas and Oil company drilled a well near here and abandoned the experiment as a bad job. George Bodine, a stockholder, was not satisfied, and started to sink it 100 feet deeper at his own expense. He struck a good flow of oil. The other stockholders say they did not give Bodine the well, as he claims.

CONDITION OF CROPS. A Report Shows Average Conditions to Exist.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The September report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the following average conditions on Sept. 1: Corn, 79.3; oats, 84.6; rye, 90.1; tobacco, 75.5; wheat, 85.7; barley, 86.4; buckwheat, 95.1; potatoes, 66.7. The condition of corn, 79.3, is 4.9 points lower than last month, 11.7 points lower than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 3.3 points lower than the September average for the last ten years. The principal state averages are as follows: Ohio, 84; Michigan, 88; Indiana, 82; Illinois, 84; Iowa, 70; Missouri, 74; Kansas, 61; Nebraska, 87; Texas, 81; Tennessee, 85; Kentucky, 83. The condition of wheat 85.7 is 11.1 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 4.50 points higher than the September average for the last ten years. There is a marked decline in the principal spring wheat states, as compared with last month. The average condition of oats is 84.6 as compared with 86.0 on Aug. 1, with 74.0 on Sept. 1, 1896, and with 80.7 the September average for the last ten years. The average condition of barley, 86.4, shows a decline of 1.1 points during the month, but is higher by 3.3 points than on Sept. 1, 1896, and by 1.9 points than the September average for the last ten years. The average condition of rye, 90.1, is 8.1 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 3.1 points above the average for the last ten years. The condition of buckwheat, 95.1, shows a slight improvement during the month. It is 1.9 points higher than on Sept. 1, 1896, and 7.3 points higher than the September average for the last ten years.

THE LEUTGERI TRIAL. Three Experts Give Their Testimony In the Wife Murder Case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—There was considerable progress in the Leutgeri trial, the session being devoted to the hearing of expert testimony. It was shown that the matter collected in the crevices of the pocketknife given by the alleged murderer to his former sweetheart, Mrs. Feldt, on the eve of his arrest, consisted of blood and particles of muscular tissue. One fact the state continuously attempted to establish, namely, that the particles of bone, flesh and organic matter taken from the vat and connecting sluice, had at one time been portions of a human body, but though the experts readily assented to the proposition that the stuff resembled the flesh and bone of a human being, they refused to deny upon cross-examination that they bore an equal resemblance to the flesh and bone of any warm-blooded animal who eats similar food. The three experts who testified were Prof. Mark Delafontaine, teacher of chemistry in a Chicago high school; Prof. Walter S. Haines, professor of chemistry in the Rush Medical college, and George Vincent Bailey, estologist of the Field Columbian Museum.

KLONDYKERS NEED FOOD.

Food Getting Scarce and Winter Has Set In—A Ship Arrives With Miners Bearing Gold—The Disappointed Ones Have Become Riotous.

OTTER POINT, B. C., Sept. 11.—The steamer Cleveland has arrived from St. Michaels. The winter has set in at Dawson and two great stores of the place have closed their doors, for they have nothing to sell. Those who have been seeking gold must now seek food or starve.

While there may be a tendency to exaggerate the actual condition of affairs there can be no question that famine threatens the adventurous men and women who made their way to the Klondyke. Hundreds of unruly spirits are flocking to Dawson. Threats of violence are being made on every side. There are uttered threats of vengeance by those held at St. Michaels, who have little hopes of advancing up the river and less of getting back to civilization.

The first signs of winter are apparent on the river Yukon, which is beginning to freeze and in a few weeks will be closed. Enormous prices are now being paid for food at Dawson, and it is impossible that more than four vessels with provisions can reach Dawson before the river is a mass of ice.

Even dire distress threatens those compelled to stay at St. Michaels. Many are living in tents.

On the Cleveland there are 38 passengers, men, women and children, who have come from Dawson City.

There are few miners in this party that are able to tell of prosperity. Most of them wish to exaggerate their possessions and if one were to believe the stories they tell, he would say that the treasure ship in which they have come carries $5,000,000.

Captain Hall, master of the Cleveland, says that he has $100,000 in his safe. The purser believes that he can account for $150,000 on board.

Shortly before the Cleveland left St. Michaels two of the expeditions, those of the National and of the South coast, held indignation meetings, threatening dire vengeance upon those who had brought them there and were unable to carry them further.

The Cleveland also brings news that when the Humboldt stopped at Unalakli on her journey to St. Michaels the passengers were in open rebellion.

They began to realize that it would be impossible for them to reach Dawson before next spring, and they knew misery awaited them at St. Michaels. There were open threats against W. D. Woods, the organizer and manager of the expedition, and it is feared that he may lose his life at the hands of his passengers.

MORE YELLOW FEVER CASES.

Young Lady Has Black Vomit in Biloxi. Short of Supplies.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11.—The announcement of 12 suspicious cases on one square in the city and that three cases had developed since the death of a young lady who had come from Ocean Springs, created a large measure of alarm in the public mind, but this was allayed when the facts became known.

It developed that a man had died as the result of excessive dissipation instead of yellow fever, as reported, in the very square in which the suspicious cases had been found. All reports received by Dr. Oliphant were so favorable that renewed confidence was infused in the officials of the board. None of the cases are known to be yellow fever.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Surgeon General Wyman has received several telegrams from Mississippi points bearing on the yellow fever situation.

Surgeon Carter telegraphed from Gulf Port, Miss., concerning the case at Perkinston as follows:

"One case yellow fever. Dr. Sheely at Perkinston. It was contracted at Ocean Springs. The case is isolated and under all necessary guard."

A dispatch from Dr. Guiteras confirmed this news.

One hundred and forty people, white and black, in Ocean Springs by actual count, are in distress, many being in extreme need of medicine and provisions.

The fever has not spread west beyond Biloxi. The most effective quarantine measure are in force, and if the disease is not held in check at Biloxi and Ocean Springs and Scranton, it will not be because the authorities have lacked in vigilance.

Biloxi is appealing for medicine and the situation in the town is apparently growing steadily worse. Miss Lewis, in the city limits, was declared to have black vomit after Dr. Tackett had made a microscopic examination. Frank Emery, son of the Methodist preacher there, was reported down with yellow fever.

Four Thousand Men on Strike.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The 4,000 men who have been at work on the new underground trolley line, which is being built along Madison and Fourth streets, have gone on strike. The strike was inaugurated because the men have received no pay for three weeks.

CAREY LOST HIS GRIP

It Was Not a Good Week For Toadix.

MANY ERRORS TO HIS CREDIT

The Big Ball Player Was Not Himself. Shaw is Still at It—Mercer Makes a Gain. Something of Interest to Local Amateurs.

Toadix Carey made more errors the last week than he has made in the same length of time since he began his career as a professional ball player. He covered second base in one game, and had five putouts and two assists without an error. His record in the last 12 games played is 46 times at bat, 18 hits, 114 putouts, eight assists and five errors.

Alf Shaw played but one game with the Syracuse team this week.

Winnie Mercer has up to the present time won 18 and lost 19 games.

"Washington's kid pitcher Bresnahan is going to devote the whole of next winter to mastering Mercer's remarkable slow floating ball," says the Sporting Life.

The game yesterday afternoon at West End park between the Goodwin and Sebring pottery teams was a one sided affair, and resulted in a victory for Goodwins by a score of 35 to 2. The batteries were Godwin and Baxter; Ford, Kinney and Firth.

The Goodwin club are of the opinion they can defeat any pottery team in the city, and are willing to play for $30 a side.

It is probable before the season opens next year a pottery league will be formed and a pennant offered for the winner.

New Fireproof Enamel.

A wonderful discovery of a new fireproof enamel, in comparison with which asbestos would be classed as a combustible, has been made by Mrs. Francis Shaw of Chicago. In a few weeks the discovery and the results of the tests of chemists are to be announced. Mrs. Shaw's experiments were carried on in the basement of a boarding house.

Two small frame houses have been coated with the new enamel, and as soon as the chief of the fire department returns from his vacation a test will be made to ascertain whether the buildings are fireproof. The enamel looks like white shellac.

A stock company has just been formed to carry on further experiments and to place the enamel on the market.—Chicago Post.

Blue Rock Shoot.

Local sportsmen are making arrangements to hold a blue rock shoot at Rock Spring next Wednesday afternoon. Later in the season a tournament will be given, when all the crack shots of the Ohio valley will be here.

NOTICE.

All persons who have lockers, or who have formerly had lockers in the Y. M. C. A. building, please report to Physical Director Morris, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. By order Gymnasium Committee.

No Playing in the Streets.

Complaint was made yesterday to Chief Johnson that the small boys were making a ball ground of Fifth street between Jefferson and Monroe streets. The police will see that their fun is stopped.

Cut His Finger.

Randolph Williams last evening met with an accident. He was stropping a razor when it slipped and cut his little finger almost from end to end. A physician sewed up the wound.

Claim for Board.

Kitty Steen has commenced action in the court of Squire Manley against Frank Cabinet for $11 claimed due for board and lodging. The case will be heard next Monday.

A Decrease.

A shipment of ten baskets of ware was sent to Pittsburgh, this morning. This makes a total of 12 baskets for the week, or a decrease of 90 over last week.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Annie Wylie pleasantly entertained friends Thursday evening at her home in Sixth street in honor of her twelfth anniversary.

A Musicales.

The Catholic Aid and Literary society last evening held a very enjoyable musicale in the rooms of the Young Men's Catholic club.

Gone to College.

Daniel Webster and George Whittaker left this morning for Columbus where they will attend the university this year.

TO BURY THE DEVIL.

Thousands of Negroes Assembled For That Pious Purpose.

Over 5,000 colored people in the vicinity of Mountville, S. C., quit work recently in answer to a call to assemble for the "burial of satan," who, they say, has just been convicted by a jury of 12 angels and sentenced to everlasting burial in that place.

These people have been holding a revival meeting in the town, and as a result of a collection they bought a bell to adorn their church. It was upon the first ringing of this bell that some of them said they detected the announcement that the burial of satan was at hand and that the ringing must be kept up continuously. The ringing has since been kept up, and the colored people have been thrown into a high pitch of fervor, in which they forget all things of earth and rave like lunatics.

Every day the number of the devotees is being added to from the surrounding country, and the result is that the cotton is standing unpicked in the fields while this wild demonstration is in progress. The attending colored ministers say they have attended the court of heaven in person, where God, the judge, after satan had been convicted by a jury of 12 representative angels, passed sentence on him, turning him over to the colored people of Mountville to bury once and for ever.—Baltimore Sun.

CURED BY WIRE.

A Remarkable Long Distance Faith Cure Vouched For by Many.

One of the most remarkable faith cures on record is reported from Austin, Tex. Not long since William Lockridge, a prominent merchant, was lying prostrated with paralysis of his lower limbs, which were so badly affected that they had to be lifted every time he turned in his bed. So critical was his condition that his family physician had given up all hope of his recovery. Today he is walking about the streets, apparently as well as if he had never been crippled with the disease, and his recovery is attributed solely to his being treated by telegraphic direction by a lady faith healer of Illinois.

One evening Mr. Lockridge, who was speechless and so low that he seemed to take no notice of anything, intimidated by means of his hand that he wanted a pencil and paper, with which he made known that he was feeling better. It was about this time the healer wired that she had begun her treatment. The patient had been sick nearly three months, during which time the paralysis had crept up his legs from his feet to his body as far as his waist. He is practically cured and is rejoicing with his family.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SHE WAS NOT DEAD.

A Wife's Successful Ruse to Win Back Her Husband.

Mrs. Charles Schlur of Stephentown, N. Y., has cleverly effected a reconciliation with her husband, from whom she had been separated for several months, because of a quarrel.

Since they parted the woman has been at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. W. Roberts, in Dalton, near Pittsfield, Mass. On a recent afternoon, a woman, apparently in a half hysterical condition, entered the telegraph office at Pittsfield and filed a telegram to Charles Schlur, at Stephentown, stating that his wife had committed suicide and asking him to proceed to Dalton at once.

The woman told the operator she was the sister of the alleged suicide, who had ended her life by taking laudanum because she was tired of being separated from her husband.

The reported suicide was published in the newspapers far and wide. Mr. Schlur bit at the bait, and hurried to Dalton. Then he learned that it was his wife who had sent the dispatch.

So gratified was he to find her alive and well that he seized her in his arms, and the quarrel was ended.—New York Journal.

He Was Loaded.

"Stand back! If you value your life, don't approach a step closer!" said Director Abbott of the city hall when a reporter entered his office one afternoon recently.

It was learned that the object of terror was a workman who carried a pocketful of dynamite cartridges. Besides he brought with him a box of stuff somewhat weaker. He wanted police protection to do blasting on the foundations of the old historical building on the square.

"What do you mean by bringing all that stuff up here anyway?" demanded Director Abbott. "I'd rather you would call me up next time, if you cannot come without it, for it's preferable to have the explosives at the other end of the line. Do you want to blow up the whole city hall?"—Cleveland Leader.

Feared She Would Be Lonesome.

A queer proceeding was had in the mayor's court at Piqua, O., recently. Walter Tinsley and wife were arraigned for an assault on an 80-year-old man. Tinsley pleaded not guilty and his wife pleaded guilty. She was fined $10 and committed to the workhouse for 30 days. Her husband then changed his plea to guilty, saying that he felt his wife would be lonesome without him. He was given the same sentence.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CAMPAIGN

Has Really Been "Open" For Many Days.

DEMOCRATS' POVERTY CRY

While Expensive Headquarters Are Maintained at Columbus.

REPUBLICANS' OPENING DATES.

Senators Foraker and Hanna on the Same Platform—McLean's Personal Representatives.

Columbus, O., September 7.

While the dates set for the "opening" of the campaign by both the Republicans and the Democrats are some days in advance, both parties have opened their headquarters and are busily engaged in getting ready for the conflict. The importance of this year's contest is apparent to the leaders of both parties.

While the Democrats have begun their usual song about poverty and lack of funds, they have given no evidence of poverty here at Columbus. With an alleged "busted" treasury, they have opened headquarters at a leading hotel, where Dan McConville is the head mogul, being a personal friend of John R. McLean. With McConville are Allen O. Myers, who is McLean's confidential manager, and W. A. Taylor, for many years in McLean's employ. Ex-Mayor Karb is ostensibly secretary of the committee, but since his election to that office he has not appeared at headquarters, and Colonel "Bill" Taylor is doing his work. The election of Karb to the secretaryship is simply a blind to allow Taylor to continue in a place where he will at once be useful to McLean.

Thus three McLean men are in active control, and already expenses have been incurred by these managers that would work havoc on a "busted" treasury.

McConville is one of those who was placed by Allen O. Myers in a list of those who once defied their party either for a reason or a consideration.

With none but McLeanites on guard, there is little room for the Thurmans, the Blandins, the Russells and others of the old-line Democrats, even though they are in accord with their party on the silver question. Thurman still remembers the way he was politically murdered by John R. McLean at the Chicago convention; remembering that he is not worrying himself about hoistign McLean into the United States senate, nor has he thus far seemed to hug to his soul the delusion possessed by the Democrats of Cleveland and northern Ohio that John R. McLean is not a candidate for the United States senate.

Candidate Chapman has visited the committee once since it commenced operations, being his first appearance in public since he made his famous peacemaking trip to Cleveland, which trip finally resulted in the party getting into the common pleas court by the injunction route, much to the disgust of those good souls who had condemned the so-called government by injunction but a few days before.

The Republicans are girding on the armor and are ready for the contest for sound money, prosperity and good times.

Governor Bushnell has been away from Columbus for a few weeks, recovering from an attack of illness, but he is back at the helm, prepared to conduct his part of the campaign with vim and vigor.

Senator Foraker, in a letter to Chairman Nash, indicates his readiness to canvass Ohio for Bushnell, Hanna and the whole ticket. "I will conform," he writes, "to any date you may agree upon for the opening of the campaign. Mr. Hanna and I talked the matter over at Washington. * * * As to my time, that will all be until election at the disposal of the committee. I have no choice as to places at which to speak."

Governor Bushnell and Senator Hanna will also take the stump in behalf of Republican success all along the line. While neither of them makes any pretensions at public speaking, both of them have shown marked ability in this line. They speak plain English, attempt no oratorical effects, and appeal to the sound, sober judgment of the voters.

The campaign will be opened on Sept. 11 at Burton, Geauga county; Newark, Licking county, and Washington C. H., Fayette county. At the

Burton meeting will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, ex-Secretary Charles Foster, and President J. J. Sullivan of the Ohio Republican league. At the Newark meeting will be Governor Bushnell, Senator Burrows of Michigan, and ex-Congressman H. L. Morey. At the Washington C. H. meeting will be Senator Thurston of Nebraska, Congressman Grosvenor and Lieutenant Governor Jones.

The first meeting at the state capital is scheduled for Sept. 22, at which ex-Congressman D. K. Watson and E. N. Huggins will speak. E. W. DOTY.

"He, McLean, goes straight to results, and cares nothing about public opinion, methods or the rights of others."

"When he, McLean, can get what he wants, he pays for it promptly and liberally."

This is what Allen O. Myers, McLean's confidential representative at the kindergarten of the Democratic state committee, says of McLean, with whom he was closely associated for several years:

$142,500.

Popocratic Managers Think That Much Necessary to Carry Ohio.

Having decided to conduct a campaign of corruption, villification and lying, the Democratic state committee has met and fixed the size of its official corruption fund.

Its size is now set down as $142,500.

The present committee, with Dan McConville as chairman, Allen O. Myers as confidential man for McLean, and with Chapman and McLean, two millionaires, for candidates, has come to the conclusion that it ought to have $142,500. That ought to be enough to run five consecutive campaigns of either party in Ohio, but with McLean and Chapman for candidates, it is decided that it is necessary to crowd five into one, so far as expenses are concerned.

The so-called finance committee has been called into action and the usual song has been sung that the Democrats have no campaign fund, never stopping to think that the people will wonder who is paying the freight thus far, in the shape of missionary work, literary work, headquarters, and many other expenses already incurred.

This finance committee meets, and after singing the poverty song, which has a hollow ring to it, says that if every citizen who voted for the Popocratic nominee for president last year and every wife and child of such citizen would contribute 10 cents to the campaign, they are sure they would have enough.

This would yield $142,500, allowing the conservative estimate of three people to each voter.

What do the McConvilles and the Myerses expect to do with this sum of money when they collect it in? For, of course, they will be successful in persuading all hands to contribute 10 cents each. Times are so hard, you know, with wheat at a dollar and the mills all over the state opening up, that they cannot be expected to contribute any more than 10 cents each.

Besides, any deficit in the 10-cent contribution can easily be made good by Millionaire Chapman and Millionaire McLean, who are running for the best offices, anyhow.

If McLean is right and every man does have his price, how the eyes of the Democratic candidates for the legislature all over the state will glisten when the poverty-stricken finance committee reports that $142,500 has actually been chipped in.

Brain Cells in Finger Tips.

The gray matter brain cells of perception have been dissected out of the finger tips of the blind. Standing point by point beneath all the ridges so plainly seen with a magnifying glass on the skin of the inside of the finger ends are the so-called corpuscles of Pacini, which are arranged in the exact semblance of the keys of a piano and are said by Meissner to crepitate and give forth a different sound in every age of each person.

A medical man recently assisted in an autopsy on a person blind from birth, and he sought to discover by scalpel and microscope the secret of the extraordinarily delicate touch the blind man had acquired during life. Sections perhaps a sixteenth of an inch thick were carefully sliced off the inner surfaces of the index and middle fingers of the right hand. Under a high power these showed, instead of a single nerve trunk and artery and vein of the average man, a most complex and delicate ramification of nerve filaments, dainty and minute nerve twigs in immense numbers branching from the main stem. Through constant use the finger tips of the blind acquire this unusual development, with more and more perfect performance of function.—Microscope.

The Weather.

Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness; continued high temperature in the interior, cooler on the lakes; light to fresh variable winds, becoming westerly.

Saving a Husband's Life.
Only the other day the newspapers told the story of a plucky woman who saved her husband from drowning on the rock bound Atlantic coast. There are other dangers beside that of drowning from which a shrewd woman may, by a little diplomacy, save her husband. Men are proverbially reckless about their health. They do not think it worth while to pay any heed to a slight indigestion, a trifling bilious attack, a little nervousness or sleeplessness, or a small loss of appetite. The first they know they have dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism, nervous prostration or deadly consumption. Even then they are prone to neglect their trouble until it is too late. A wise wife will assume guardianship of her husband's health. She will always have at hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When her husband feels out of sorts she will see that he takes it. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and the nerves steady. It builds firm flesh, strong muscles, and healthy nerve tissues. It cures dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism and nervous prostration. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. An honest dealer will always give you what you ask for.

"I was a sufferer from malaria," writes Mr. R. D. Hill, of Zanto, Louisiana Co., Va. "Two doctors failed to cure me. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and was cured. I can now do as good a day's work as any man."

Constipation often causes sickness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, in little vials. Druggists sell them and have nothing else "just as good." They regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They are East Liverpool People, and What they say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on:

Mrs. A. Searight, No. 152 High street, East End, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney disease over a year ago which confined me to my bed for about three months. It affected my entire system and while I have been able to be about I never got completely rid of it. I suffered almost constantly with a dull heavy pain across the loins; if I sat for any length of time, or did anything that brought me into a stooping position and attempted to rise, there would be a sharp shooting pain in the small of my back that felt as if a knife or other sharp instrument had pierced me. I could not sleep when I went to bed, expecting to get rest. I was often robbed of it by nervousness and pain in my back. I have risen unrefreshed and more tired and worn out than I was when I retired. I had taken so much medicine without being cured that I was discouraged. I belong to the Daughters of Liberty and the Maccabees and notified them to drop me, but they refused to do so; this made me more determined than ever to get well, as I did not want to be a burden to them. Doan's Kidney Pills presented themselves in the form of a newspaper account. I got some at the W. and W. Pharmacy. They proved to be the proper remedy for me. Their mild and gentle influence gradually reduced the pain in my back and strengthened the weakness. I am not suffering in any way since taking them, all the symptoms having disappeared. I rest well at night and am gaining in strength and weight every day. Of course I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills; it would not be right to refuse to, for the benefit of other sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Woman's Ills

CAREY LOST HIS GRIP

It Was Not a Good Week For Toadix.

MANY ERRORS TO HIS CREDIT

The Big Ball Player Was Not Himself. Shaw is Still at It—Mercer Makes a Gain. Something of Interest to Local Amateurs.

Toadix Carey made more errors the last week than he has made in the same length of time since he began his career as a professional ball player. He covered second base in one game, and had five putouts and two assists without an error. His record in the last 12 games played is 46 times at bat, 18 hits, 114 putouts, eight assists and five errors.

Alf Shaw played but one game with the Syracuse team this week.

Winnie Mercer has up to the present time won 18 and lost 19 games.

"Washington's kid pitcher Bresnehan is going to devote the whole of next winter to mastering Mercer's remarkable slow floating ball," says the Sporting Life.

The game yesterday afternoon at West End park between the Goodwin and Sebring pottery teams was a one sided affair, and resulted in a victory for Goodwins by a score of 35 to 2. The batteries were Godwin and Baxter; Ford, Kinney and Firth.

The Goodwin club are of the opinion they can defeat any pottery team in the city, and are willing to play for $30 a side.

It is probable before the season opens next year a pottery league will be formed and a pennant offered for the winner.

New Fireproof Enamel.

A wonderful discovery of a new fireproof enamel, in comparison with which asbestos would be classed as a combustible, has been made by Mrs. Francis Shaw of Chicago. In a few weeks the discovery and the results of the tests of chemists are to be announced. Mrs. Shaw's experiments were carried on in the basement of a boarding house.

Two small frame houses have been coated with the new enamel, and as soon as the chief of the fire department returns from his vacation a test will be made to ascertain whether the buildings are fireproof. The enamel looks like white shellac.

A stock company has just been formed to carry on further experiments and to place the enamel on the market.—Chicago Post.

Blue Rock Shoot.

Local sportsmen are making arrangements to hold a blue rock shoot at Rock Spring next Wednesday afternoon. Later in the season a tournament will be given, when all the crack shots of the Ohio valley will be here.

Cut His Finger.

Randolph Williams last evening met with an accident. He was stropping a razor when it slipped and cut his little finger almost from end to end. A physician sewed up the wound.

Claim for Board.

Kitty Steen has commenced action in the court of Squire Manley against Frank Cabinet for $11 claimed due for board and lodging. The case will be heard next Monday.

A Decrease.

A shipment of ten baskets of ware was sent to Pittsburgh, this morning. This makes a total of 12 baskets for the week, or a decrease of 90 over last week.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Annie Wylie pleasantly entertained friends Thursday evening at her home in Sixth street in honor of her twelfth anniversary.

A Musicale.

The Catholic Aid and Literary society last evening held a very enjoyable musicale in the rooms of the Young Men's Catholic club.

TO BURY THE DEVIL.

Thousands of Negroes Assembled For That Pious Purpose.

Over 5,000 colored people in the vicinity of Mountville, S. C., quit work recently in answer to a call to assemble for the "burial of satan," who, they say, has just been convicted by a jury of 12 angels and sentenced to everlasting burial in that place.

These people have been holding a revival meeting in the town, and as a result of a collection they bought a bell to adorn their church. It was upon the first ringing of this bell that some of them said they detected the announcement that the burial of satan was at hand and that the ringing must be kept up continuously. The ringing has since been kept up, and the colored people have been thrown into a high pitch of fervor, in which they forget all things of earth and rave like lunatics.

Every day the number of the devotees is being added to from the surrounding country, and the result is that the cotton is standing unpicked in the fields while this wild demonstration is in progress. The attending colored ministers say they have attended the court of heaven in person, where God, the judge, after satan had been convicted by a jury of 12 representative angels, passed sentence on him, turning him over to the colored people of Mountville to bury once and for ever.—Baltimore Sun.

CURED BY WIRE.

A Remarkable Long Distance Faith Cure Vouched For by Many.

One of the most remarkable faith cures on record is reported from Austin, Tex. Not long since William Lockridge, a prominent merchant, was lying prostrated with paralysis of his lower limbs, which were so badly affected that they had to be lifted every time he turned in his bed. So critical was his condition that his family physician had given up all hope of his recovery. Today he is walking about the streets, apparently as well as if he had never been crippled with the disease, and his recovery is attributed solely to his being treated by telegraphic direction by a lady faith healer of Illinois.

One evening Mr. Lockridge, who was speechless and so low that he seemed to take no notice of anything, intimidated by means of his hand that he wanted a pencil and paper, with which he made known that he was feeling better. It was about this time the healer wired that she had begun her treatment. The patient had been sick nearly three months, during which time the paralysis had crept up his legs from his feet to his body as far as his waist. He is practically cured and is rejoicing with his family.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SHE WAS NOT DEAD.

A Wife's Successful Ruse to Win Back Her Husband.

Mrs. Charles Schlur of Stephentown, N. Y., has cleverly effected a reconciliation with her husband, from whom she had been separated for several months, because of a quarrel.

Since they parted the woman has been at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Roberts, in Dalton, near Pittsfield, Mass. On a recent afternoon, a woman, apparently in a half hysterical condition, entered the telegraph office at Pittsfield and filed a telegram to Charles Schlur, at Stephentown, stating that his wife had committed suicide and asking him to proceed to Dalton at once.

The woman told the operator she was the sister of the alleged suicide, who had ended her life by taking laudanum because she was tired of being separated from her husband.

The reported suicide was published in the newspapers far and wide. Mr. Schlur bit at the bait, and hurried to Dalton. Then he learned that it was his wife who had sent the dispatch.

So gratified was he to find her alive and well that he seized her in his arms, and the quarrel was ended.—New York Journal.

He Was Loaded.

"Stand back! If you value your life, don't approach a step closer!" said Director Abbott of the city hall when a reporter entered his office one afternoon recently.

It was learned that the object of terror was a workman who carried a pocketful of dynamite cartridges. Besides he brought with him a box of stuff somewhat weaker. He wanted police protection to do blasting on the foundations of the old historical building on the square.

"What do you mean by bringing all that stuff up here anyway?" demanded Director Abbott. "I'd rather you would call me up next time, if you cannot come without it, for it's preferable to have the explosives at the other end of the line. Do you want to blow up the whole city hall?"—Cleveland Leader.

Fear'd She Would Be Lonesome.

A queer proceeding was had in the mayor's court at Piqua, O., recently. Walter Tinsley and wife were arraigned for an assault on an 80-year-old man. Tinsley pleaded not guilty and his wife pleaded guilty. She was fined $10 and committed to the workhouse for 30 days. Her husband then changed his plea to guilty, saying that he felt his wife would be lonesome without him. He was given the same sentence.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CAMPAIGN

Has Really Been "Open" For Many Days.

DEMOCRATS' POVERTY CRY

While Expensive Headquarters Are Maintained at Columbus.

REPUBLICANS' OPENING DATES.

Senators Foraker and Hanna on the Same Platform—McLean's Personal Representatives.

Columbus, O., September 7.

While the dates set for the "opening" of the campaign by both the Republicans and the Democrats are some days in advance, both parties have opened their headquarters and are busily engaged in getting ready for the conflict. The importance of this year's contest is apparent to the leaders of both parties.

While the Democrats have begun their usual song about poverty and lack of funds, they have given no evidence of poverty here at Columbus. With an alleged "busted" treasury, they have opened headquarters at a leading hotel, where Dan McConville is the head mogul, being a personal friend of John R. McLean. With McConville are Allen O. Myers, who is McLean's confidential manager, and W. A. Taylor, for many years in McLean's employ. Ex-Mayor Karb is ostensibly secretary of the committee, but since his election to that office he has not appeared at headquarters, and Colonel "Bill" Taylor is doing his work. The election of Karb to the secretaryship is simply a blind to allow Taylor to continue in a place where he will at once be useful to McLean.

Thus three McLean men are in active control, and already expenses have been incurred by these managers that would work havoc on a "busted" treasury.

McConville is one of those who was placed by Allen O. Myers in a list of those who once defied their party either for a reason or a consideration.

With none but McLeanites on guard, there is little room for the Thurmans, the Blandins, the Russells and others of the old-line Democrats, even though they are in accord with their party on the silver question. Thurman still remembers the way he was politically murdered by John R. McLean at the Chicago convention; remembering that he is not worrying himself about hoisting McLean into the United States senate, nor has he thus far seemed to hug to his soul the delusion possessed by the Democrats of Cleveland and northern Ohio that John R. McLean is not a candidate for the United States senate.

Candidate Chapman has visited the committee once since it commenced operations, being his first appearance in public since he made his famous peace-making trip to Cleveland, which trip finally resulted in the party getting into the common pleas court by the injunction route, much to the disgust of those good souls who had condemned the so-called government by injunction but a few days before.

The Republicans are girding on the armor and are ready for the contest for sound money, prosperity and good times.

Governor Bushnell has been away from Columbus for a few weeks, recovering from an attack of illness, but he is back at the helm, prepared to conduct his part of the campaign with vim and vigor.

Senator Foraker, in a letter to Chairman Nash, indicates his readiness to canvass Ohio for Bushnell, Hanna and the whole ticket. "I will conform," he writes, "to any date you may agree upon for the opening of the campaign. Mr. Hanna and I talked the matter over at Washington. * * * As to my time, that will all be until election at the disposal of the committee. I have no choice as to places at which to speak."

Governor Bushnell and Senator Hanna will also take the stump in behalf of Republican success all along the line. While neither of them makes any pretensions at public speaking, both of them have shown marked ability in this line. They speak plain English, attempt no oratorical effects, and appeal to the sound, sober judgment of the voters.

The campaign will be opened on Sept. 11 at Burton, Geauga county; Newark, Licking county, and Washington C. H., Fayette county. At the

Burton meeting will be Senators Foraker and Hanna, ex-Secretary Charles Foster, and President J. J. Sullivan of the Ohio Republican league. At the Newark meeting will be Governor Bushnell, Senator Burrows of Michigan, and ex-Congressman H. L. Morey. At the Washington C. H. meeting will be Senator Thurston of Nebraska, Congressman Grosvenor and Lieutenant Governor Jones.

The first meeting at the state capital is scheduled for Sept. 22, at which ex-Congressman D. K. Watson and E. N. Huggins will speak. E. W. DOTY.

"He, McLean, goes straight to results, and cares nothing about public opinion, methods or the rights of others.

"When he, McLean, can get what he wants, he pays for it promptly and liberally."

This is what Allen O. Myers, McLean's confidential representative at the kindergarten of the Democratic state committee, says of McLean, with whom he was closely associated for several years:

$142,500.

Popocratic Managers Think That Much Necessary to Carry Ohio.

Having decided to conduct a campaign of corruption, villification and lying, the Democratic state committee has met and fixed the size of its official corruption fund.

Its size is now set down as $142,500.

The present committee, with Dan McConville as chairman, Allen O. Myers as confidential man for McLean, and with Chapman and McLean, two millionaires, for candidates, has come to the conclusion that it ought to have $142,500. That ought to be enough to run five consecutive campaigns of either party in Ohio, but with McLean and Chapman for candidates, it is decided that it is necessary to crowd five into one, so far as expenses are concerned.

The so-called finance committee has been called into action and the usual song has been sung that the Democrats have no campaign fund, never stopping to think that the people will wonder who is paying the freight thus far, in the shape of missionary work, literary work, headquarters, and many other expenses already incurred.

This finance committee meets, and after singing the poverty song, which has a hollow ring to it, says that if every citizen who voted for the Popocratic nominee for president last year and every wife and child of such citizen would contribute 10 cents to the campaign, they are sure they would have enough.

This would yield $142,500, allowing the conservative estimate of three people to each voter.

What do the McConvilles and the Myerses expect to do with this sum of money when they collect it in? For, of course, they will be successful in persuading all hands to contribute 10 cents each. Times are so hard, you know, with wheat at a dollar and the mills all over the state opening up, that they cannot be expected to contribute any more than 10 cents each.

Besides, any deficit in the 10-cent contribution can easily be made good by Millionaire Chapman and Millionaire McLean, who are running for the best offices, anyhow.

If McLean is right and every man does have his price, how the eyes of the Democratic candidates for the legislature all over the state will glisten when the poverty-stricken finance committee reports that $142,500 has actually been chipped in.

Brain Cells in Finger Tips.

The gray matter brain cells of perception have been dissected out of the finger tips of the blind. Standing point up beneath all the ridges so plainly seen with a magnifying glass on the skin of the inside of the finger ends are the so-called corpuscles of Pacini, which are arranged in the exact semblance of the keys of a piano and are said by Meissner to crepitate and give forth a different sound in every age of each person.

A medical man recently assisted in an autopsy on a person blind from birth, and he sought to discover by scalpel and microscope the secret of the extraordinarily delicate touch the blind man had acquired during life. Sections perhaps a sixteenth of an inch thick were carefully sliced off the inner surfaces of the index and middle fingers of the right hand. Under a high power these showed, instead of a single nerve trunk and artery and vein of the average man, a most complex and delicate ramification of nerve filaments, dainty and minute nerve twigs in immense numbers branching from the main stem. Through constant use the finger tips of the blind acquire this unusual development, with more and more perfect performance of function.—Microscope.

The Weather.

Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness; continued high temperature in the interior, cooler on the lakes; light to fresh variable winds, becoming westerly.

Only the other day the newspapers told the story of a plucky woman who saved her husband from drowning on the rocky coast. There are other dangers beside that of drowning from which a shrewd woman may, by a little diplomacy, save her husband. Men are proverbially reckless about their health. They do not think it worth while to pay any heed to a slight indigestion, a trifling bilious attack, a little nervousness or sleeplessness, or a small loss of appetite. The first they know they have dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism, nervous prostration or deadly consumption. Even then they are prone to neglect their trouble until it is too late.

A wise wife will assume guardianship of her husband's health. She will always have at hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When her husband feels out of sorts she will see that he takes it. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and the nerves steady. It builds firm flesh, strong muscles, and healthy nerve tissues. It cures dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism and nervous prostration. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. An honest dealer will always give you what you ask for.

"I was a sufferer from malaria," writes Mr. R. D. Hill, of Zanto, Louisiana Co., Va. "Two doctors failed to cure me. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and was cured. I can now do as good a day's work as any man."

Constipation often causes sickness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, in little vials. Druggists sell them and have nothing else "just as good." They regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They are East Liverpool People, and What they say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on:

Mrs. A. Searight, No. 152 High street, East End, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney disease over a year ago which confined me to my bed for about three months. It affected my entire system and while I have been able to be about I never got completely rid of it. I suffered almost constantly with a dull heavy pain across the loins; if I sat for any length of time, or did anything that brought me into a stooping position and attempted to rise, there would be a sharp shooting pain in the small of my back that felt as if a knife or other sharp instrument had pierced me. I could not sleep when I went to bed, expecting to get rest. I was often robbed of it by nervousness and pain in my back. I have risen unrefreshed and more tired and worn out than I was when I retired. I had taken so much medicine without being cured that I was discouraged. I belong to the Daughters of Liberty and the Maccabees and notified them to drop me, but they refused to do so; this made me more determined than ever to get well, as I did not want to be a burden to them. Doan's Kidney Pills presented themselves in the form of a newspaper account. I got some at the W. and W. Pharmacy. They proved to be the proper remedy for me. Their mild and gentle influence gradually reduced the pain in my back and strengthened the weakness. I am not suffering in any way since taking them, all the symptoms having disappeared. I rest well at night and am gaining in strength and weight every day. Of course I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills; it would not be right to refuse to, for the benefit of other sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

WELLSVILLE.

WENT OVER THE HILL

An Accident Out Along Little Yellow Creek.

THE YOUNG WOMAN IS BETTER

But It Was Thought That Her Drop of 20 Feet Would Result In Broken Bones. Miss Joseph's Mishap—A Jury's Verdict—All the News of Wellsville.

Mrs. House and her niece, Miss Helpenstein, were driving yesterday evening along Yellow creek, about two miles from town, when the elder lady left the buggy in order that she might gather ferns. The horse became restless and jumped forward, but Miss Helpenstein caught the reins and pulled it back. Not satisfied with this the animal continued to back, and in a moment the outfit had gone over the hill. The cliff at this point is fully 20 feet high, and the young woman was not only hurt by the fall, but the horse became tangled in the wreck of the buggy and began to kick. Assistance was summoned, and Miss Helpenstein was rescued, but not without serious injuries. She was brought to town, and is today getting along as well as the circumstances will allow. No bones were broken, but she is covered with bruises.

Has a Very Bad Smell.

The smell from a lot of material stored in a building near the soap factory has for a long time been a source of annoyance to residents in that part of the city, and the matter was taken before the board of health for final settlement, but the board was busy and nothing was done. Yesterday Mr. Wright who lives next door to the building headed a petition, and in a remarkably short time 60 persons were appealing to Mayor Jones to abate the nuisance.

A Narrow Escape.

A Mr. Mathew, who is employed at the rolling mill, came near meeting with what would have doubtless proved a serious accident. He was showing his son how a sheet of metal is passed through the rolls, and in the operation slipped and fell in such a manner that the workmen in that part of the mill believed he had been caught and would be drawn through the rolls. He saved himself by a violent effort.

A Broken Arm.

Miss Joseph, of West End, went riding on her wheel last evening, and got along very well until she reached a point where the wheel met with some obstruction. In a twinkling, the young woman was tossed from the bicycle, and when she arose her arm was broken. The fracture is a bad one, and it will be some time before she is out of the physician's care.

Tried by a Jury.

The case of Judge Smith against J. A. Deidrick was heard in the court of Squire Mackenzie to a jury. The suit was brought for rent, and attracted a considerable amount of attention, being decided when Judge Smith was awarded $50, the contestants to divide the costs. The claim was for $62.50.

Two Claims.

McGowan Bros., wholesale grocers of Wellsville, have sued Marion Cline on two claims in Justice McKenzie's court. One is for $274.92, and the other for $274.93. Attachments were issued, and the hearing is set for September 15, at 1 o'clock.

The News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Whalen and son Robert returned from an extended visit in Great Britain yesterday.

Every department in the Cleveland and Pittsburg shops, except the car repairers, who are on eight hours, have been put on five hours time. The painters and machinists went on short time yesterday, and the rest will be put on today.

B. O. Fair and C. R. Hillsbury, of Iroandale, were in the city late yesterday evening calling on friends. They came in on their bikes.

The first train passed over the new arch just completed at Brown's station yesterday afternoon. Engineer Cocannaur and Conductor Hallett had the train in charge.

The largest freight car that has ever passed over the Cleveland and Pittsburg went through the city today. It is of the Carnegie build and has a capacity of 100,000 pounds.

It is believed that another turn will be put on at the rolling mill next week if the new mill is completed.

THE importers of colored sugars, who fondly believed they could frighten the great state of Ohio, have found to their sorrow that the average Buckeye when in office does not frighten worth a cent.

It certainly seems strange that the country always prospers under Republican rule. The Democrats call it luck, but there are Democrats who would scorn the thought of being styled superstitious.

Those Kansas farmers who once hung upon every word as it fell from the lips of Sockless Simpson have learned to laugh at the poor statesman of Medicine Lodge. Plenty of money will work wonders.

THE imports of crockery under the Dingley bill has fallen off about 50 per cent. To the thinking man that means a market for the wares of East Liverpool in every state of the union. It also pretends prices such as will allow the payment of good wages.

SO FAR as the state is concerned Ohio has this year to choose between the successful business administration of a man who has always been legitimately successful and the tricks of a politician who does not even live here. Would it not be better to honor Governor Bushnell with another term rather than allow John R. McLean to control the situation?

A GOOD MOVE.

The determination to give the civil service laws a thorough test in the supreme court, will meet with the hearty approval of many a disappointed office seeker, as well as those people who believe Grover Cleveland was unjust in using his power for the sole benefit of the party he represented. That the house of representatives wants the law taken from the books, has long since ceased to be a point for argument, but whether the men who compose it will dare an open fight if the court sustains the statute, remains to be seen. At any rate the decision will put an end, for a time at least, to a vast amount of needless talk.

THE OLD GAME.

In the face of the fact that John R. McLean with his millions of money is behind the Democratic campaign, his friends declare over and over again that they have no funds with which to meet the "corruption fund" of their opponents. The statement is nonsense. The Democrats have more money for the coming campaign than they have had for a similar purpose in many years. The vast amount of boiler plate matter dumped into the offices of Democratic weekly papers each month costs money, while the elaborate arrangements being made for the opening of the campaign in every school district of the state the same day is additional assurance that the managers who so earnestly plead poverty have money to spend in behalf of their leader.

Rev. J. H. Norris Announced
His Sanctification.

WILL BE ASKED TO RESIGN

The Well Known Presbyterian Devine Heard the Teachings at Hollow Rock, and When He Returned to His Church
the Congregation Did Not Like It.

Rev. J. H. Norris, pastor of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, who is very well known in this city, has announced to his congregation that he has embraced the doctrine of holiness, and as a result it is probable he will be asked to resign.

The story as given in the Pittsburg papers says that the reverend gentleman was recently granted a vacation which he spent attending campmeetings near Liverpool. A portion of the time was devoted to Spring Grove, but the greater part of it was taken up by the Hollow Rock meeting. The attendance this year was very large, and a great many people were converted to the doctrine in question. When Reverend Norris returned to Pittsburg he announced to numbers of his church on the street that a new holiness had come to him, and a new light had dawned showing him that he had been in the dark. It caused a great deal of comment, as one of the firmest beliefs of the Presbyterian church is that sanctification does not come in this life, and that death is required to make one holy. On this the whole doctrine of the denomination is founded.

"The first public announcement of this change in his life was made by Rev. Mr. Norris last Sunday morning," says the Pittsburg Dispatch. "When he entered the pulpit he knelt for a moment in silent prayer, something that is never done by the Presbyterian ministers, although practiced by many other denominations. The congregation was astounded, and Rev. Mr. Norris realized this fact. He then announced that his sermon would be from the epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians. No particular passage was selected, but Mr. Norris read from all parts of the book, bringing out many points to prove that holiness can be obtained in this life, for the epistles of St. Paul are filled with such proofs.

"During the sermon the members of the congregation sat in amazement. Some even got up and left the building, so shocked were they at what they heard. At Sunday school that afternoon Mrs. Norris advanced the same ideas to her class, and at the meeting of the Christian Endeavorers it was again brought in.

"At the Wednesday evening prayer meeting, however, the most direct statements were made, when Mr. Norris announced that no person who had not achieved holiness could be saved. Among the fashionable members of which the church is composed there were many new faces on that night, which were easily recognized as belonging to members of the Free Methodist and Sanctification beliefs. The newcomers expressed their views, which were much the same as those that had been advanced by Mr. Norris. Indignation was extreme, and many of the prominent members declared that they would sever their connection with the church. Since that time the matter has been placed in the hands of Rev. William Jones, of Knoxville, the moderator of the district, who is making an investigation of the case.

"As Rev. Mr. Norris has no defense to make, except his belief in the new doctrine, it is probable that his resignation as pastor of the church will be imme-

"The regular meeting of the board of elders of the congregation was held last night. It was late when the meeting adjourned, and the members refused to state what had been done, or whether the matter had ever been discussed. It was ascertained, however, that it was this subject that had kept them so late.

"Mr. Norris has been pastor of the Mt. Washington church for three years. He came here from Chicago, this being his third charge, the other one having been a small church in Ohio. Since he has been here he has worked hard for the church, and it was mainly due to his efforts that the debts were all paid, and an elegant pipe organ recently purchased. It is not likely that any of the members will follow him in his new belief."

ing men, when a little child of four years came in the door with a letter.

"Say, mister, I want this letter to go to papa, will you take it to him?"

Everyone in the room turned and saw the little child holding a up letter to a Cleveland traveling man.

"All right," said the man, and picking up the child and carressing it said: "All right, it will reach your papa today."

"Thank you sir," lisped the little one, and off it ran.

"I have a child," said the traveler, "and I always know when she mails a letter to me, and so does this one's father. Look at the finger marks."

FILLING A BULLDOG'S TEETH.

An Operation Which a Scranton Dentist
Did With Hesitation, but Success.

A powerful and ferocious bulldog, owned by Dr. Ward of Scranton, Pa.,
enjoys the distinction of having a big gold filling in one of his incisors, and a good many citizens who have caught a gleam of the gold in his mouth, wonder how the filling was done. Some think it was done through hypnotic influence by the doctor over the dog, while others insist that it was through the dog's implicit obedience to his master's command.

The bulldog's name is Gem. He is as ugly in appearance as a prize winner in a dog show. His nose is a mass of wrinkles, and his eyes have a wicked gleam.
for any one but his master and Mrs.
Ward. His affection for them, however, knows no bounds. When Gem was discovered one day claspings his muzzle between his paws, rolling over and over on the floor and moaning, his mouth was examined, and it was found that there was a big cavity in one of the incisors. It was decided that a dentist should be consulted. The dentist found that it would be necessary to use a rubber dam, and he promised to fill the cavity provided Gem was etherized. This was done, and the operation was considered a successful one, although Gem evidently thought otherwise. Some time afterward the filling came out, and Gem's last state was worse than his first, for he refused to submit to another operation with ether. At the first sniff of the anesthetic he not only added a score of wrinkles to those already in his nose, but showed his teeth in so dangerous a way that the dentist refused to proceed. Dr. Ward insisted that he could make Gem stand on the table and have the tooth filled without wincing. The dentist was dubious about trusting his hand between the brute's jaws, but finally consented to try.

Gem was put on the table, and his master stood in front of him, kept his eyes fixed on Gem's and told him to open his mouth. Gem did so, and a rubber dam was soon adjusted in place.
The dentist set to work with the instrument of torture called a bur, and one of Gem's ears went down in a threatening way, while the other remained cocked. The doctor held one finger raised and kept his eyes fixed on Gem's, that never wandered from his master's gaze.
The attitude of Gem's ears proved a barometer of his sufferings when the bur touched a spot close to the nerve.
When both ears went down, the dentist knew he had gone as far as dogs' nature would let him go. Gem's eyes never wandered from the doctor's in the 1½ hours the dentist was at work. Gem stood the final polishing, and when his master gave the word for him to get down from the table Gem danced with demonstrations of joy at his release.
Since that day he has no trouble in masticating the biggest beef bone—

FILLING A BULLDOG'S TEETH.

An Operation Which a Scranton Dentist Did With Hesitation, but Success.

A powerful and ferocious bulldog, owned by Dr. Ward of Scranton, Pa., enjoys the distinction of having a big gold filling in one of his incisors, and a good many citizens who have caught a gleam of the gold in his mouth, wonder how the filling was done. Some think it was done through hypnotic influence by the doctor over the dog, while others insist that it was through the dog's implicit obedience to his master's command.

The bulldog's name is Gem. He is as ugly in appearance as a prize winner in a dog show. His nose is a mass of wrinkles, and his eyes have a wicked gleam. For any one but his master and Mrs. Ward, his affection for them, however, knows no bounds. When Gem was discovered one day clamping his muzzle between his paws, rolling over and over on the floor and moaning, his mouth was examined, and it was found that there was a big cavity in one of the incisors. It was decided that a dentist should be consulted. The dentist found that it would be necessary to use a rubber dam, and he promised to fill the cavity provided Gem was etherized. This was done, and the operation was considered a successful one, although Gem evidently thought otherwise. Some time afterward the filling came out, and Gem's last state was worse than his first, for he refused to submit to another operation with ether. At the first sniff of the anesthetic he not only added a score of wrinkles to those already in his nose, but showed his teeth in so dangerous a way that the dentist refused to proceed. Dr. Ward insisted that he could make Gem stand on the table and have the tooth filled without wincing. The dentist was dubious about trusting his hand between the brute's jaws, but finally consented to try.

Gem was put on the table, and his master stood in front of him, kept his eyes fixed on Gem's and told him to open his mouth. Gem did so, and a rubber dam was soon adjusted in place. The dentist set to work with the instrument of torture called a bur, and one of Gem's ears went down in a threatening way, while the other remained cocked. The doctor held one finger raised and kept his eyes fixed on Gem's, that never wandered from his master's gaze. The attitude of Gem's ears proved a barometer of his sufferings when the bur touched a spot close to the nerve. When both ears went down, the dentist knew he had gone as far as dogs' nature would let him go. Gem's eyes never wandered from the doctor's in the 1½ hours the dentist was at work. Gem stood the final polishing, and when his master gave the word for him to get down from the table Gem danced with demonstrations of joy at his release. Since that day he has no trouble in masticating the biggest beef bone.—New York Sun.

Street Railway Company Preparing For Work.

STEEL VIADUCT TO BE BUILT

The East End Extension and a Lot of Other Improvements Will Be Commenced at Once In Order That They May Be Completed by Sept. 30.

The street railway company are preparing for extensive improvements. It has been known for some time that Manager Hoefgen has been contemplating a great deal of work, but not until today was the announcement made that it would be completed during the remainder of the year.

The start will be made next Monday morning when a crossing of improved pattern will be laid at the Horn switch, on Franklin avenue. Superintendent Andrews has been instructed to prepare for the extension of the line in East End to the city limits, and for the building of the steel bridge which will span Jethro hollow. It is expected all the work will be completed by Nov. 30.

President Peach and Solicitor Grosshans will confer with the county commissioners next week in regard to what portion they will be willing to pay toward building a 16-foot roadway over the hollow at the time the railway company put up their trestle.

It is probable the city will receive but little help from the commissioners in building the trestle, as Commissioner McIntosh stated this morning that they had expended all the funds at their command.

Labor Day Committee Winding Up Its Affairs.

The Labor day committee met last evening and paid bills amounting to $802.50, but there are yet several bills to bear from. The total receipts received so far are $912.35. A vote of thanks was extended to all parties who aided in making the celebration a success. From the amount of money taken in at the gate it is known there were 5,907 paid admissions to the park. The committee will meet Tuesday evening and settle up all accounts.

THE WOMAN GOT AWAY.

But Her Husband Succeeded In Getting the Child.

As the noon train was about to pull out a well known man rushed into the waiting room and inquired for a policeman. He was told to go in the baggage room, but as he was on his way down the steps he saw his wife and child get on the second coach. He ran up to the car, snatched the grip from his wife, and then went after the child. The child was secured, the train started, and he jumped off near the Second street crossing, with the child in his arms. The woman stayed in the car, and went to Ohioville, where she now is.

It was said about the station that the woman had planned to run off, but as her husband heard of it, he was on hand to save his child. The parties are well known.

After the train left the man went to a nearby livery stable, and securing a buggy drove to Ohioville, thinking he in some way might persuade her to return home.

The woman sent some of her personal property to the freight depot this morning, and they will be forwarded to her next Monday. The husband is a kilnman in an uptown pottery.

STRIKE WILL CONTINUE

Miners Reject the Proposition to Settle.

THEY WANT MORE MONEY

Not Content With the 65 Cent Rate For the Pittsburg District—A Hard Fight. But the Opposition Was Powerful In Spite of Leaders.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 11.—[Special]—The deadlock in the miners' convention was broken this morning when by a decisive vote the proposition of the Pittsburg operators was rejected. There was much confusion, and the meeting ended without arrangements for the future. It is not known whether another conference will be called.

The general officers were anxious for a settlement and fought hard to bring it about. They argued that if work was resumed in the Pittsburg district at the rate presented there would be a corresponding advance in the other states. In this they were met by Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois and Indiana with such success that the strike will continue. All sorts of sensational rumors are being circulated.

Salineville Wanted to Work.

SALINEVILLE, Sept. 11.—[Special]—The announcement that the coal strike was to continue and the proposition of the operators had been rejected was the source of some disappointment here. Many miners wanted to return to work at the proposed rate. However, they will obey the wishes of the convention, and there will be no break here.

SAM JONES MAY COME.

Spring Grove's Committee Will Ask His Terms.

The executive committee of Spring Grove campground met last evening and discussed plans for next season. The secretary was instructed to correspond with Sam Jones and Amanda Smith, the celebrated colored evangelist, and secure their terms for the two weeks of campmeeting. If they can be secured an effort will be made to engage other speakers of equal reputation.

CITY HALL IMPROVEMENTS.

Council's Committee and Trustees Did Not Meet.

The members of the police committee and the township trustees failed to meet last evening to discuss the subject of improving city hall, owing to the absence of the trustees. Messrs. Horwell and Challis were present, and thoroughly discussed the subject and are very anxious that a meeting be held before the next meeting of council in order that they may make a recommendation of some kind. They think the matter has been hanging fire long enough. The plans and specifications have all been prepared, and everything is in readiness to commence work as soon as something definite is decided upon. If it is deemed unwise by council to make the extensive improvements contemplated, work will be commenced at once remodeling the office of the mayor.

Chief Johnson called attention to the fact that the sanitary condition of the cells is very bad, and several bricks had recently fallen out of the wall. He was instructed to have the necessary repairs made at once.

CURFEW.

Parents, Keep Your Children Off the Street In the Evening.

How are you going to do it? This is the question which is sometimes very puzzling to some parents. Here is a plan, and a good one. Send them to night school at the Ohio Valley Business college. Remember, it is the only night school in the city, and it is a good one. Professor Cooper, the famous penman, will give them private instructions in writing, and it won't cost you much. Go up and see this school and you will be surprised to see the good work it is doing.

Will Begin Next Week.

The trustees of the First U. P. church have awarded the contract for the building of the new Chester chapel to Findley Brothers, of that place, who will commence work Monday morning. The chapel will cost in the neighborhood of $1,200, and will be completed by December.

NELSON SUED THE CITY

He Wants $10,000 For a Broken Leg.

FELL ON SLIPPERY BROADWAY

He Stumbled Over a Gas Box Set In the Middle of the Pavement—Harry Dickey Goes to the Works and His Wife to Newburg Asylum.

LISBON, Sept. 11.—[Special]—James Nelson has sued the city of East Liverpool for $10,000 damages.

The petition alleges that on Jan. 22 of this year he was walking in Broadway when he tripped on an iron gas curb box, fell and broke his right leg, in two places and received other bodily injuries. The box, he claims, was in the middle of the sidewalk between Third and Fourth streets, being solidly imbedded in the walk and extending above it two inches. The box was, he believes, a dangerous obstruction of which the city had for some time known and which he did not know was there. He was confined to his bed for five months and will be a cripple for life.

Mrs. Ida Dickey, of Wellsville, who has been at the infirmary for two months, will be taken to the asylum on Monday. Her husband, Harry Dickey, was taken to the works yesterday for not supporting her.

A Reception.

The members of the Phoenix club and their lady friends were entertained last evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Anderson at their home in Broadway in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Grosshans. The spacious rooms were decorated with smilax and cut flowers, one parlor being reserved for dancing to the music of the mandolin club. The arrangements were perfect and the affair throughout was a delightful success.

Can't Hold the Job.

When Mayor Gilbert walked into his office this morning and found only one case awaiting his disposition he said: "We will have to do something to secure a janitor as one armed Smith can't hold the job, that's sure," and then he fined Smith $7.60 for being in town. Smith refused to pay.

GOOD WORDS OF TRADE

Crockery Dealers Are Buying Large Stocks.

THE IMPROVEMENT IS GENERAL

All the Potteries Have an Abundance of Orders—New York Does Not Complain, but as Usual Takes the Worst View of the Situation.

Good words concerning the prospects in the crockery trade continue to find their way to East Liverpool. The intelligence is most cheering. Not a day passes without them, and the trade papers are full of the manner in which trade is increasing.

"There is no abatement in the activity at all the pottery manufacturing centers and a number of the establishments continue to work overtime," says China, Glass and Lamps in summing up the situation. "Though there has as yet been no special accentuation of the demand, shipments on former orders are good, and inquiries are such as to indicate considerably increased interest during the present month. Prices have an advancing tendency and this fact is likely to induce even those dealers who have sufficient stocks to meet current demands to look ahead and anticipate coming needs. Imports are declining rapidly in volume and are now less than half what they were a year ago."

In speaking of the New York trade the Crockery Journal says:

"Business continues to improve, and houses that have not felt the benefits of returning prosperity before are now saying that times are better. As the season advances regular trade is coming to town. Many of the buyers who have been here in the past three or four weeks are comparative strangers to this market. In fact, there are some who have never bought in New York before, as they looked to the jobbers in their immediate neighborhood for supplies. These men bought fancy goods and novelties which their jobbers did not keep. In this way it has been a good thing for the New York merchant, and it will teach the buyer that it pays to come to this city to see what kind of goods are in the market, and, by buying a few things, brighten up their stock. These buyers do not, as a rule, touch staples here, preferring to buy of their jobbers in quantities to suit."

LIVERPOOL YOUNG MEN

Will Address the Christian Union at Scroggsfield.

The Young People's union of this district of the United Presbyterian church will hold its annual convention in the church at Scroggsfield, commencing next Monday and ending Tuesday evening. The opening address will be delivered by Rev. Joseph Kyle, of Allegheny. During the Tuesday session Clarence Manor will speak on "Temperance and reform, optimism and pessimism," which will be followed by an address by John Hanley on "Young men's need of preparation for Christian work." Officers for the year will be elected Tuesday morning.

NO MEETING.

Again the Board of Health Failed to Get Together.

The board of health failed to meet last evening, as the only person to put in an appearance was Sanitary Officer Burgess. The board has not had a meeting for three months, but it is thought when the cold weather sets in they will probably get together.

A Lot of Bill Posters.

The excursion car of the Barnum and Bailey syndicate shows arrived in the city this morning at 4 o'clock from Wheeling. The car has 18 men and is in charge of El Riel. The big show is showing in Elvria today, and Cleveland on Monday.

Wandered Away.

A four-year-old child belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Davis, of Morton addition, wandered away from its home early yesterday afternoon, and was found about 7 o'clock last evening at the lower end of Second street, and returned to its parents.

Gave Out Prizes.

Charles Larkins yesterday afternoon, on behalf of the sports committee of Trades council, gave out several prizes won by contestants at Columbian park on Labor day.

Their First Successes.

Thiers' great achievement at Aix was in winning a prize offered by the academy for an essay on Vauvenargues. The way in which this prize was secured was characteristic of Thiers. He wrote one essay which would have been successful but for the fact that it was known to be his. The essays were sent anonymously, but Thiers had been unable to refrain from reading his to a literary society. The royalists on the committee, knowing its authorship, were unwilling to grant it the prize and postponed the decision. Thiers at once wrote another in a different style, which Mignet copied and sent in anonymously. This essay won the prize, and the whole town laughed at the clever scheme. The money which he received enabled him to go to Paris.

He had hoped to practice law, but found he had not money enough to be admitted to the Paris bar. He tried unsuccessfully writing, fan painting and the duties of a private secretary, but earned barely enough to keep from starving in his garret. Finally he got a chance to write for The Constitutionnel. The editor, to whom he had an introduction, had thought to get rid of him by asking him to write a review of the salon for that year. He supposed that Thiers must fail in such a task. The artistic taste which had been developed at Aix made this review a literary event. While doing justice to David's great service to French art in the past Thiers urged emancipation from the fetters with which David had bound the French school and in contrast called attention to Delacroix, then an unknown painter. This single article did much for French art and also secured the author a position as a journalist.—Chautauquan.

A Spider's Web.

It is hard to realize how small a spider's web really is. A famous microscopist once made some interesting comparisons of a cobweb with human hair. "I have often compared the size of the thread spun by full grown spiders with a hair of my beard," he says. "I placed the thickest part of the hair before the microscope, and, from the most accurate judgment I could form, more than 100 of such threads placed side by side could not equal the diameter of one of such hair. If, then, we suppose such a hair to be of a round form, it follows that 10,000 threads spun by the full grown spider, when taken together, will not be equal in substance to the size of a single hair. To this, if we add that 400 young spiders at the time when they begin to spin their webs are not larger than one full grown one and that each of these minute spiders possesses the same organs as the larger ones, it follows that the exceedingly small threads spun by these little creatures must be still 400 times slenderer, and consequently that 4,000,000 of these minute spiders' threads cannot equal in substance the size of a single hair."—Chicago Record.

Saved Against His Will.

Another V. C. of my acquaintance—he is anything but a doctor—once saved a trooper whose horse had been killed. His argument was rather original. The man was on foot, and the enemy—Zulus this time, and they are beautiful fighters—were coming down at a run, and he said very decently that he did not see his way to periling his officer's life by double weighting the only horse there was.

To this his officer answered, "If you don't get up behind me, I'll get off and I'll give you such a licking as you've never had in your life." The man was more afraid of fists than assegais, and the good horse pulled them both out of the scrape. Now, by the regulations an officer who insults or threatens with violence a subordinate of his service is liable to lose his commission and to be declared "incapable of serving the queen in any capacity," but for some reason or other the trooper never reported his superior.—Rudyard Kipling in Youth's Companion.

When the Sea Was Fresh Water.

The ocean was once merely brackish, and not salt, as it is now. This was when the earth was in its first youth and before there was any land showing at all or any animal life in the water. At this time the water was gradually cooling from its original state of steam, and the salts were slowly undergoing the change from gases into solids. Then came the appearance of land, and later on rivers, which gradually washed down more and more salts, while at the bottom of the ocean itself chemical action was constantly adding more brine to the waters. At present it is estimated there are in the world's oceans 7,000,000 cubic miles of salt, and the most astonishing thing about it is that if all the salt could be taken out in a moment the level of the water would not drop one single inch.—New York World.

Back to Business.

The hours of vacation are waning. And the townsman will soon come back with a courage that seems complaining. O'er the things he henceforth must lack. He must struggle to meet new conditions as gracefully as he can. Talking politics with politicians. Instead of the hired man. He must drink from a cool soda fountain instead of a lukewarm spring. No more can he climb up the mountain. A swift elevator's the thing. That takes him aloft every morning. And he's kept busy dodging just now The cable car, loud in its warning. Instead of the silent cow.

JUDGE NASH

Talks Plainly to the Republicans of the Buckeye State—Words of Warning.

WHAT DEFEAT WOULD MEAN

Not Only Loss of State Ticket and Senator, but Congressman as Well.

DEMOCRATS WILL GERRYMANDER.

They Have Always Stifled the Will of the People by Unfair Congress Districts—Republican Duty.

Columbus, O., September 4, 1897.

To the Republicans of Ohio:

The election, which is to occur in November in this state, is of so much importance to you and to the principles and policies which you believe are necessary for the prosperity of this country, that I have deemed it proper to call your attention to the ground which you will lose in case of defeat.

First—It would place the executive and legislative branches of the state government in the hands of the worst element of the Democratic party. To permit any portion of our state ticket to suffer defeat will weaken the whole line, not only in this contest, but for many years to come.

Every Republican and every man who believes in Republican principles must give loyal, hearty and active support to every man upon our ticket.

Second—A Democratic legislature means that a Democrat, believing in the policies enunciated by the Democratic national platform, promulgated at Chicago last year, will be elected as a senator of the United States from the state of Ohio. On the great questions of a sound financial policy and a tariff which will protect the industries of this country, the voice of Ohio will be silent in that body—there being simply one vote in their favor and one vote against them.

Along these lines the senate is now so evenly divided that the change in Ohio from a Republican senator to a Democratic senator, will probably create a majority in that body adverse to the policies of our party.

Third—An evil greater than either of those above mentioned will follow this result. A Democratic legislature, as certainly as it meets next winter, will gerrymander this state for congressional purposes. Next year our twenty-one members of congress will be elected in congressional districts arranged by our enemies.

From past experience we know that a Democratic gerrymander means districts so distorted as to stifle the will of the people. Next year, with such an arrangement of the congressional districts, but five or six Republicans can be elected to the house of representatives, while fifteen or sixteen men, hostile to our principles and arrayed against the industrial and financial interests of the country, will be elected.

This may result in the control of congress by so-called Democrats.

The McLean managers know how beneficial victory in November will be to them. They also know that upon the issues fairly presented by the two great parties they are hopelessly beaten. They hope to divert you from a consideration of these issues by a campaign of slander and personal abuse. They are circulating all sorts of falsehoods in regard to our candidates and leaders. They have inaugurated a campaign of villification which ought to disgust all fair-minded men.

Every Republican in Ohio should be on guard to meet, deny and resent the falsehoods which daily emanate from the McLean headquarters and are printed in their newspapers.

Knowing, as I do, the zeal, energy and loyalty of the Republicans of Ohio, I do not for one moment expect that they will be otherwise than victorious in November.

But the issues are so great, and the results from defeat would be so dire, that I feel that I ought to call your attention to them.

Such possible evil results will, I am sure, cause every Republican to put on his armor and enter this contest with a determination that no possible chance leading to success shall be overlooked. With such a resolve and the necessary work which will follow, our foes will meet with the same overwhelming disaster this year which they have suffered in each of the last four years. GEO. K. NASH, Chairman Republican State Executive Committee.

GOOD WORDS OF TRADE

Crockery Dealers Are Buying Large Stocks.

THE IMPROVEMENT IS GENERAL

All the Potteries Have an Abundance of Orders—New York Does Not Complain, but as Usual Takes the Worst View of the Situation.

Good words concerning the prospects in the crockery trade continue to find their way to East Liverpool. The intelligence is most cheering. Not a day passes without them, and the trade papers are full of the manner in which trade is increasing.

"There is no abatement in the activity at all the pottery manufacturing centers and a number of the establishments continue to work overtime," says China, Glass and Lamps in summing up the situation. "Though there has as yet been no special accentuation of the demand, shipments on former orders are good, and inquiries are such as to indicate considerably increased interest during the present month. Prices have an advancing tendency and this fact is likely to induce even those dealers who have sufficient stocks to meet current demands to look ahead and anticipate coming needs. Imports are declining rapidly in volume and are now less than half what they were a year ago."

In speaking of the New York trade the Crockery Journal says:

"Business continues to improve, and houses that have not felt the benefits of returning prosperity before are now saying that times are better. As the season advances regular trade is coming to town. Many of the buyers who have been here in the past three or four weeks are comparative strangers to this market. In fact, there are some who have never bought in New York before, as they looked to the jobbers in their immediate neighborhood for supplies. These men bought fancy goods and novelties which their jobbers did not keep. In this way it has been a good thing for the New York merchant, and it will teach the buyer that it pays to come to this city to see what kind of goods are in the market, and, by buying a few things, brighten up their stock. These buyers do not, as a rule, touch staples here, preferring to buy of their jobbers in quantities to suit."

LIVERPOOL YOUNG MEN

The Young People's union of this district of the United Presbyterian church will hold its annual convention in the church at Scroggsfield, commencing next Monday and ending Tuesday evening. The opening address will be delivered by Rev. Joseph Kyle, of Allegheny. During the Tuesday session Clarence Manor will speak on "Temperance and reform, optimism and pessimism," which will be followed by an address by John Hanley on "Young men's need of preparation for Christian work." Officers for the year will be elected Tuesday morning.

NO MEETING.

Again the Board of Health Failed to Get Together.

The board of health failed to meet last evening, as the only person to put in an appearance was Sanitary Officer Burgess. The board has not had a meeting for three months, but it is thought when the cold weather sets in they will probably get together.

Their First Successes.

Thiers' great achievement at Aix was in winning a prize offered by the academy for an essay on Vauvenargues. The way in which this prize was secured was characteristic of Thiers. He wrote one essay which would have been successful but for the fact that it was known to be his. The essays were sent anonymously, but Thiers had been unable to refrain from reading his to a literary society. The royalists on the committee, knowing its authorship, were unwilling to grant it the prize and postponed the decision. Thiers at once wrote another in a different style, which Mignet copied and sent in anonymously. This essay won the prize, and the whole town laughed at the clever scheme. The money which he received enabled him to go to Paris.

He had hoped to practice law, but found he had not money enough to be admitted to the Paris bar. He tried unsuccessfully writing, fan painting and the duties of a private secretary, but earned barely enough to keep from starving in his garret. Finally he got a chance to write for The Constitutionnel. The editor, to whom he had an introduction, had thought to get rid of him by asking him to write a review of the salon for that year. He supposed that Thiers must fail in such a task. The artistic taste which had been developed at Aix made this review a literary event. While doing justice to David's great service to French art in the past Thiers urged emancipation from the fetters with which David had bound the French school and in contrast called attention to Delacroix, then an unknown painter. This single article did much for French art and also secured the author a position as a journalist.—Chautauquan.

A Spider's Web.

It is hard to realize how small a spider's web really is. A famous microscopist once made some interesting comparisons of a cobweb with human hair. "I have often compared the size of the thread spun by full grown spiders with a hair of my beard," he says. "I placed the thickest part of the hair before the microscope, and, from the most accurate judgment I could form, more than 100 of such threads placed side by side could not equal the diameter of one of such hair. If, then, we suppose such a hair to be of a round form, it follows that 10,000 threads spun by the full grown spider, when taken together, will not be equal in substance to the size of a single hair. To this, if we add that 400 young spiders at the time when they begin to spin their webs are not larger than one full grown one and that each of these minute spiders possesses the same organs as the larger ones, it follows that the exceedingly small threads spun by these little creatures must be still 400 times slenderer, and consequently that 4,000,000 of these minute spiders' threads cannot equal in substance the size of a single hair."—Chicago Record.

Saved Against His Will.

Another V. C. of my acquaintance—he is anything but a doctor—once saved a trooper whose horse had been killed. His argument was rather original. The man was on foot, and the enemy—Zulus this time, and they are beautiful fighters—were coming down at a run, and he said very decently that he did not see his way to periling his officer's life by double weighting the only horse there was.

To this his officer answered, "If you don't get up behind me, I'll get off and I'll give you such a licking as you've never had in your life." The man was more afraid of fists than assegais, and the good horse pulled them both out of the scrape. Now, by the regulations an officer who insults or threatens with violence a subordinate of his service is liable to lose his commission and to be declared "incapable of serving the queen in any capacity," but for some reason or other the trooper never reported his superior.—Rudyard Kipling in Youth's Companion.

When the Sea Was Fresh Water.

The ocean was once merely brackish, and not salt, as it is now. This was when the earth was in its first youth and before there was any land showing at all or any animal life in the water. At this time the water was gradually cooling from its original state of steam, and the salts were slowly undergoing the change from gases into solids. Then came the appearance of land, and later on rivers, which gradually washed down more and more salts, while at the bottom of the ocean itself chemical action was constantly adding more brine to the waters. At present it is estimated there are in the world's oceans 7,000,000 cubic miles of salt, and the most astonishing thing about it is that if all the salt could be taken out in a moment the level of the water would not drop one single inch.—New York World.

Back to Business.

The hours of vacation are waning. And the townsman will soon come back with a courage that seems complaining. O'er the things he henceforth must lack. He must struggle to meet new conditions as gracefully as he can. Talking politics with politicians. Instead of the hired man. He must drink from a cool soda fountain. Instead of a lukewarm spring. No more can he climb up the mountain. A swift elevator's the thing. That takes him aloft every morning. And he's kept busy dodging just now. The cable car, loud in its warning. Instead of the silent cow.

JUDGE NASH

Talks Plainly to the Republicans of the Buckeye State—Words of Warning.

WHAT DEFEAT WOULD MEAN

Not Only Loss of State Ticket and Senator, but Congressman as Well.

DEMOCRATS WILL GERRYMANDER.

They Have Always Stifled the Will of the People by Unfair Congress Districts—Republican Duty.

Columbus, O., September 4, 1897.

To the Republicans of Ohio:

The election, which is to occur in November in this state, is of so much importance to you and to the principles and policies which you believe are necessary for the prosperity of this country, that I have deemed it proper to call your attention to the ground which you will lose in case of defeat.

First—It would place the executive and legislative branches of the state government in the hands of the worst element of the Democratic party. To permit any portion of our state ticket to suffer defeat will weaken the whole line, not only in this contest, but for many years to come.

Every Republican and every man who believes in Republican principles must give loyal, hearty and active support to every man upon our ticket.

Second—A Democratic legislature means that a Democrat, believing in the policies enunciated by the Democratic national platform, promulgated at Chicago last year, will be elected as a senator of the United States from the state of Ohio. On the great questions of a sound financial policy and a tariff which will protect the industries of this country, the voice of Ohio will be silent in that body—there being simply one vote in their favor and one vote against them.

Along these lines the senate is now so evenly divided that the change in Ohio from a Republican senator to a Democratic senator, will probably create a majority in that body adverse to the policies of our party.

Third—An evil greater than either of those above mentioned will follow this result. A Democratic legislature, as certainly as it meets next winter, will gerrymander this state for congressional purposes. IMPROVING OUR ROADS

The County Commissioners Have Decided to Act.

TO CUT DOWN RIVERVIEW HILL

The Contract For Needed Grading on the Calcutta Road Will Be Let Next Week. Other Important Work Will Be Done Before Winter Comes.

The county commissioners have at last reached that point where they realize that the roads in this particular part of the county are sadly in need of improvement, and contractors have been asked to bid on important work near the city.

The commissioners will start with the hill on Calcutta road near River-view cemetery, and will have it graded for a distance of 1,600 feet. The improvement has long been needed, and will be a great convenience not alone to the city, but to the thousands of farmers who annually travel that thoroughfare. The contract will be let next Friday.

It is understood that this is but a starting point for what will develop into extensive improvements in this part of the county. Other roads which have long been in need of repair, will be given attention before winter comes.

MORTGAGES.

Franklin County People Paying Their Debts Most Rapidly.

When a man borrows money for expenditures of whatever sort, it is because he needs at the time more money than he has on hand. He is hard up. In the expenditure of the money borrowed, he gives others employment and to that extent helps make good times for the community.

But when many in a community are borrowing, it may rightly be said that the community is hard up.

When a man pays his debts, it is because he has money on hand in excess of his present needs. The times with him are good.

When a community is paying its debts, it may rightly be said to be in the midst of good times, for generally speaking, the people are taking in more than they are paying out for current needs, and, consequently, are able to pay on account of their debts.

The official figures of mortgages filed and cancelled in the recorder's office in Franklin county for the past two years illustrate these two conditions of life.

For the year ending June 30, 1896: Aggregate mortgages filed, $5,819,277.57

Aggregate mortgages cancelled, 3,394,873.38

For the year ending June, 1897: Aggregate mortgages filed, $2,036,554.21

Aggregate mortgages cancelled, 3,907,366.71

In other words, the second year shows that the people of Franklin county borrowed nearly $4,000,000 less than they did the year before and paid over $600,000 more of their debts in the same time. These figures show a net difference in favor of prosperity of the people of Franklin county alone of about $4,500,000.

It must be remembered that in the second year's figures only seven months of the twelve were since the election of McKinley, so that the present rate of discharge of mortgage obligations must be greater than the figures for the last fiscal year indicate. Indeed, the recorder of Franklin county is authority for the statement that since June 30, 1897, cancellations are being made more rapidly than during the months that preceded that date. One day recently it required one whole newspaper column to record the cancellations of mortgages in the county recorder's office for the day before.

A vote for Chapman and for a McLean is a vote to stem this evident tide of prosperity.

Interesting Railroad Statistics.

Poor's Manual for the current year, the thirtieth annual number, has just been issued. In the preface are the usual tables of statistics of the operations of the railroads of the United States. They show that there was an increase of only 1,788 in the number of miles operated. Compared with the previous year the tons of freight moved increased 2.40 per cent, and the freight mileage 6 per cent. The number of passengers carried increased 1.01 per cent, and the passenger mileage 3.46 per cent.

The earnings from freight increased 8.58 per cent, from passengers 1.68 per cent, and miscellaneous earnings increased 2.52 per cent, making the increase in gross earnings 3.04 per cent. The net earnings increased 3.23 per cent. The earnings per ton per mile were 0.821 cent, against 0.839 cent, a decrease of 2.15 per cent. The share capital increased 3.7 per cent, and the funded debt decreased 3.17 per cent, these changes being the results of reorganizations.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

The Brunetti theater of Bologna, Italy, will henceforth bear the name E. Duse. Mme. Eleonora Duse has expressed herself, it is said, as deeply gratified at the compliment.

The only woman who has written opera librettos in four languages is said to be the queen of Roumania, in literature Carmen Sylva. She has produced librettos in French, in German, in Swedish and in Roumanian.

Edward Everett Hale said recently that he believes that the thorough training in Latin given the Boston boys from 1635 to 1775 had much to do with that city's reputation as a literary center.

Professor J. H. Trumbull of Hartford, whose death was recently announced, was said to be the only person who could read Eliot's Indian Bible, which now becomes a dead book in the most complete sense of the word.

Bishop Talbot of Rochester and Canon Gore will spend the months of September and October in the United States, representing the Christian Social union at the international convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, to be held in Buffalo.

The king of Siam, on his recent visit to England, was shown a picture of Moses descending from Mount Sinai bearing the tablets of the law. The king did not understand the subject very well, and when it was explained to him he asked, "And who was Moses?"

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

IMPROVING OUR ROADS

The County Commissioners Have Decided to Act.

TO CUT DOWN RIVERVIEW HILL.

The Contract For Needed Grading on the Calcutta Road Will Be Let Next Week. Other Important Work Will Be Done Before Winter Comes.

The county commissioners have at last reached that point where they realize that the roads in this particular part of the county are sadly in need of improvement, and contractors have been asked to bid on important work near the city.

The commissioners will start with the hill on Calcutta road near River-view cemetery, and will have it graded for a distance of 1,600 feet. The improvement has long been needed, and will be a great convenience not alone to the city, but to the thousands of farmers who annually travel that thoroughfare. The contract will be let next Friday.

It is understood that this is but a starting point for what will develop into extensive improvements in this part of the county. Other roads which have long been in need of repair, will be given attention before winter comes.

MORTGAGES.

Franklin County People Paying Their Debts Most Rapidly.

When a man borrows money for expenditures of whatever sort, it is because he needs at the time more money than he has on hand. He is hard up. In the expenditure of the money borrowed, he gives others employment and to that extent helps make good times for the community.

But when many in a community are borrowing, it may rightly be said that the community is hard up.

When a man pays his debts, it is because he has money on hand in excess of his present needs. The times with him are good.

When a community is paying its debts, it may rightly be said to be in the midst of good times, for generally speaking, the people are taking in more than they are paying out for current needs, and, consequently, are able to pay on account of their debts.

The official figures of mortgages filed and cancelled in the recorder's office in Franklin county for the past two years illustrate these two conditions of life.

For the year ending June 30, 1896: Aggregate mortgages filed, $5,819,277.57

Aggregate mortgages cancelled, 3,394,873.38

For the year ending June, 1897: Aggregate mortgages filed, $2,036,554.21

Aggregate mortgages cancelled, 3,907,366.71

In other words, the second year shows that the people of Franklin county borrowed nearly $4,000,000 less than they did the year before and paid over $600,000 more of their debts in the same time. These figures show a net difference in favor of prosperity of the people of Franklin county alone of about $4,500,000.

It must be remembered that in the second year's figures only seven months of the twelve were since the election of McKinley, so that the present rate of discharge of mortgage obligations must be greater than the figures for the last fiscal year indicate. Indeed, the recorder of Franklin county is authority for the statement that since June 30, 1897, cancellations are being made more rapidly than during the months that preceded that date. One day recently it required one whole newspaper column to record the cancellations of mortgages in the county recorder's office for the day before.

A vote for Chapman and for a McLean is a vote to stem this evident tide of prosperity.

Interesting Railroad Statistics.

Poor's Manual for the current year, the thirtieth annual number, has just been issued. In the preface are the usual tables of statistics of the operations of the railroads of the United States. They show that there was an increase of only 1,738 in the number of miles operated. Compared with the previous year the tons of freight moved increased 2.40 per cent, and the freight mileage 6 per cent. The number of passengers carried increased 1.01 per cent, and the passenger mileage 3.46 per cent. The earnings from freight increased 8.58 per cent, from passengers 1.68 per cent, and miscellaneous earnings increased 2.52 per cent, making the increase in gross earnings 3.04 per cent. The net earnings increased 3.23 per cent. The earnings per ton per mile were 0.821 cent, against 0.839 cent, a decrease of 2.15 per cent. The share capital increased 3.7 per cent, and the funded debt decreased 3.17 per cent, these changes being the results of reorganizations.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

The only woman who has written opera librettos in four languages is said to be the queen of Roumania, in literature Carmen Sylva. She has produced librettos in French, in German, in Swedish and in Roumanian.

Edward Everett Hale said recently that he believes that the thorough training in Latin given the Boston boys from 1635 to 1775 had much to do with that city's reputation as a literary center.

Professor J. H. Trumbull of Hartford, whose death was recently announced, was said to be the only person who could read Eliot's Indian Bible, which now becomes a dead book in the most complete sense of the word.

Bishop Talbot of Rochester and Canon Gore will spend the months of September and October in the United States, representing the Christian Social union at the international convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, to be held in Buffalo.

The king of Siam, on his recent visit to England, was shown a picture of Moses descending from Mount Sinai bearing the tablets of the law. The king did not understand the subject very well, and when it was explained to him he asked, "And who was Moses?"

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

SONS OF VETERANS' ENCAMPMENT.
A Number of Candidates Are Out For New Commander-In-Chief.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—The selection of a commander-in-chief occurs today and the Sons of Veterans have spent much time in electioneering for their favorite candidate for that office. The present commander-in-chief, J. L. Rake, has announced himself out of the race and two other prospective candidates, Neely of Washington and Stillson of Michigan, failed to appear at the encampment. Those who will make the contest are Darling of Boston, Patten of Wisconsin, Dilley of Iowa and Buckley of Kentucky.

Senior Vice Commander Kennedy is working for the west, but thinks the proper place for it to be held is in Denver.

Insurgents Capture Important Town In Cuba.

WEYLER ASKED TO EXPLAIN.

The Minister of War Sent Demand—The Place Was Defended By Seven Forts and Two Krupp Guns—Reforms to Be Hastened.

MADRID, Sept. 11.—The minister of war has cabled Captain General Weyler asking for an explanation regarding the capture by the insurgents of Victoria de las Tunas, province of Santiago de Cuba, which is defended by seven forts, having two Krupp guns among their armament.

It is stated here that the object of the insurgents is to establish their government there and then obtain the recognition of their belligerency by the United States.

The newspapers of this city, commenting upon the capture of Victoria de las Tunas, condemn Captain General Weyler.

The Imparcial says that General John Vellar was removed from his command for a similar disaster in 1876.

It is pointed out that the strategic position of Victoria de las Tunas is important. The government has decided to act vigorously and to immediately dispatch further reinforcements to Cuba if that is necessary.

The minister for the colonies, Senor Castellano, has decided to hasten the application of the Cuban reforms. The law providing for the election of the commission for Cuban administration will shortly appear. The municipal elections have been fixed for Oct. 10, the application of the provincial law will follow and finally, the application of the necessary laws and regulations for the council of administration, which will commence work on March 1, when the reforms are generally applied, will be next in order.

HAVANA, Sept. 11.—General Luque has sent the following dispatch from Holguin, Santiago de Cuba to Captain General Weyler:

"On Sept. 5, the garrison of Victoria de las Tunas surrendered to the rebels, who have since returned, in exchange for an equal number, the military commander, three officers and 75 soldiers. The latter have been placed under arrest and will be called upon to prove that they complied with the military regulations of the garrison."

A CRASH OF DEATH.

Terrible Collision of Trains In Colorado. Fully 30 Persons Killed—Injured Number 185—A Conductor Arrested—Pennsylvanians Among the Victims.

NEW CASTLE, Colo., Sept. 11.—The worst wreck in the history of the state of Colorado has occurred on the track of the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado and Midland railways, one and a half miles west of here. Many of the unfortunates will never be known, and it is possible that the number killed will always be in doubt. From the best information obtainable now fully 30 persons are believed to have perished, while 185 were taken out of the wreck suffering from serious injuries.

The wreck was caused by a head-end collision between a Denver and Rio Grande passenger train running 40 miles an hour and a special Colorado Midland stock train running probably 30 miles. Both engines, baggage and express cars, smoker and day coaches and two stock cars were totally demolished and the track torn up for rods in both directions. The wreck caught fire from an explosion of a Pintsch gas tank on the passenger train, and burned so rapidly that many passengers pinned beneath the debris were burned to death before help could reach them.

The most generally accepted theory as to the cause of the wreck seems to be that Conductor Burkank of the Midland special, anticipating the time of the passenger, undertook to "steal a station" and beat the passenger into New Castle. Burbank escaped uninjured and upon orders from Coroner Clark has been placed under arrest by the sheriff. Midland Engineer Ostrander is missing and is thought to have fled.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Strouse, who live a quarter of a mile from the scene, report that the shock was so great as to literally hurl them out of bed. Some say the noise was heard and the shock felt in New Castle.

The dead recognized are:
F. Keenan, mail agent of Denver.
Robert S. Holland, fireman, Denver and Rio Grande railway, Salida.
Mrs. Alexander Hartman and two sons of Herscher, Ills.
James Erick of Chicago.
Charles L. eper of Clarion, Pa.
Among the injured are:
J. C. Yeager of Toledo, injured internally.
R. W. Shot, Leeper, Pa., badly bruised.

The Blackguards of Malaga.
Besides my man Mohammed there were several other Arab passengers aboard, and the appearance of these, as they leaned over the bulwarks of the steamer, was the signal for a shout of derisive laughter, curses and stone throwing on the part of the crowd of ill fed and ill conditioned boys who thronged the quay. For downright blackguardism nothing can beat the type of the youth of Malaga, whose expression, like their morals, is of as debased a type as could well be imagined. Howls of filthy language greeted the appearance of the Moors, who, had they disembarked, would have run a great risk of being torn to pieces, so great is the antipathy of the Spaniards to their former conquerors. The captain of the steamer appealed to the police, but the two representatives of this noble body were busily employed in stealing figs from the cargo and paid little or no attention to the fact that an infuriated crowd of the worst characters of Malaga—that is to say, the worst in the world—were pelting the steamer with stones and mud. Affairs, however, reached a climax when one of the Moors, who spoke Spanish, asked after the health of General Margallo, the general who had been killed before Melilla, and then the captain was obliged to order them below, though the ill conditioned crowd hooted and jeered until at sunset the steamer left.—Harris' "From Batum to Bagdad."

TIRES THAT LEAK.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire must be regarded as a distinct improvement in bicycle tire construction. It has the following advantages:

While punctures in it can be repaired with plugs, or semi-liquid injections, as well as in any other single-tube tire, it can be permanently repaired by using the quick-repair strip inside the tire. See cut No. 1.

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, as in cut No. 2, the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, as in cut No. 3.

No. 3.

The Morgan & Wright single-tube quick-repair tire is guaranteed not porous. This is on account of the way in which it is made. Nearly every rider has heard of tires that "leak like a sieve."

Many tires rot, because water gets into the fabric between the two layers of rubber. The Morgan & Wright fabric is proof against moisture.

Everybody knows how comfortable Morgan & Wright tires are, and yet how seldom they puncture. This is due to the fabric.

Ask any bicycle dealer whether other tires last as long as Morgan & Wright tires. Ask, also, what the Morgan & Wright guarantee means. Morgan & Wright tires are repaired free of charge, at the factory in Chicago or at any of the Morgan & Wright free repair shops, located in the principal cities.

N. B.—When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

SONS OF VETERANS' ENCAMPMENT.

A Number of Candidates Are Out For New Commander-In-Chief.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—The selection of a commander-in-chief occurs today and the Sons of Veterans have spent much time in electioneering for their favorite candidate for that office. The present commander-in-chief, J. L. Rake, has announced himself out of the race and two other prospective candidates, Neely of Washington and Stillson of Michigan, failed to appear at the encampment. Those who will make the contest are Darling of Boston, Patten of Wisconsin, Dilley of Iowa and Buckley of Kentucky.

The next contest in importance is for the place of the next convention. Omaha speaks for it through Senator Thurston, who is making a strong effort to pull the '98 convention to the west. Senior Vice Commander Kennedy is working for the west, but thinks the proper place for it to be held is in Denver.

The Ohio delegates are talking up the virtues of Cincinnati as an encampment city. Put-In-Bay has a request in, and a few Ohio people are supporting its claim.

At Bellevue it was learned that the case of the man was diagnosed as one of insanity. He refused to say a word as to his identity or how he came to be at Mount Morris park. He is of medium height, has brown hair and mustache and a week's growth of beard. He is said to be so terribly emaciated that the skin has cracked where drawn tightly over joints. His clothing contained only a key.—New York Herald.

Insurgents Capture Important Town In Cuba.

WEYLER ASKED TO EXPLAIN.

The Minister of War Sent Demand—The Place Was Defended By Seven Forts and Two Krupp Guns—Reforms to Be Hastened.

MADRID, Sept. 11.—The minister of war has cabled Captain General Weyler asking for an explanation regarding the capture by the insurgents of Victoria de las Tunas, province of Santiago de Cuba, which is defended by seven forts, having two Krupp guns among their armament.

It is stated here that the object of the insurgents is to establish their government there and then obtain the recognition of their belligerency by the United States.

The newspapers of this city, commenting upon the capture of Victoria de las Tunas, condemn Captain General Weyler.

The Imparcial says that General John Vellar was removed from his command for a similar disaster in 1876.

It is pointed out that the strategical position of Victoria de las Tunas is important. The government has decided to act vigorously and to immediately dispatch further reinforcements to Cuba if that is necessary.

The minister for the colonies, Senor Castellano, has decided to hasten the application of the Cuban reforms. The law providing for the election of the commission for Cuban administration will shortly appear. The municipal elections have been fixed for Oct. 10, the application of the provincial law will follow and finally, the application of the necessary laws and regulations for the council of administration, which will commence work on March 1, when the reforms are generally applied, will be next in order.

HAVANA, Sept. 11.—General Luque has sent the following dispatch from Holguin, Santiago de Cuba to Captain General Weyler:

"On Sept. 5, the garrison of Victoria de las Tunas surrendered to the rebels, who have since returned, in exchange for an equal number, the military commander, three officers and 75 soldiers. The latter have been placed under arrest and will be called upon to prove that they complied with the military regulations of the garrison."

A CRASH OF DEATH.

Terrible Collision of Trains In Colorado. Fully 30 Persons Killed—Injured Number 185—A Conductor Arrested—Pennsylvanians Among the Victims.

NEW CASTLE, Colo., Sept. 11.—The worst wreck in the history of the state of Colorado has occurred on the track of the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado and Midland railways, one and a half miles west of here. Many of the unfortunates will never be known, and it is possible that the number killed will always be in doubt. From the best information obtainable now fully 30 persons are believed to have perished, while 185 were taken out of the wreck suffering from serious injuries.

The wreck was caused by a head-end collision between a Denver and Rio Grande passenger train running 40 miles an hour and a special Colorado Midland stock train running probably 30 miles. Both engines, baggage and express cars, smoker and day coaches and two stock cars were totally demolished and the track torn up for rods in both directions. The wreck caught fire from an explosion of a Pintsch gas tank on the passenger train, and burned so rapidly that many passengers pinned beneath the debris were burned to death before help could reach them.

The most generally accepted theory as to the cause of the wreck seems to be that Conductor Burkank of the Midland special, anticipating the time of the passenger, undertook to "steal a station" and beat the passenger into New Castle. Burbank escaped uninjured and upon orders from Coroner Clark has been placed under arrest by the sheriff. Midland Engineer Osterlander is missing and is thought to have fled.
